UNITED STATES BALLOT

Held For Governors,
Congressmen, Etc.

WEATHER PREVAILED

Elections for Various Offices
Held in the States of Louisiana, Michigan, Nebraska and Vermont, Sept. 2.—Nominations for congress and state, parochial offices were decided upon in general democratic primary which held throughout Louisiana on Sept. 2. In many instances committees have already decided upon the candidates, but there are contests in congressional districts and several candidates for the supreme court.

There are also several candidates for the vacancy on the Louisiana railroad commission.

In the sixth congressional district, representative George K. Favrot was nominated by Robert C. Wickliffe and
M. Lefebvre, while representative A. P. Pajo, of the seventh congressional district, contests for the democratic nomination with William

Temple Graves, the party's candidate for vice president, but Mr. Graves
was not present, being at the Warm-
Sulphur Springs in Virginia.

When Mr. Hisgen's name was first
mentioned as the notification ceremony was about to take place, there was renewed cheering. Melvin G. Palliser, chairman of the meeting, then turned the proceedings over to Henry
A. Powell, chairman of the notification committee.

Mr. Powell told Mr. Hisgen accepting the nomination. Mr. Hisgen then had been selected as the standard-bearer of the new party, and Mr. Hisgen accepted the nomination in a speech outlining the principles and policies which he stands for.

PRICE ON COTTON.

Minimum Rate To Be Fixed by the Farmers' Union Convention.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 2.—On the eve of the annual convention of the Farmers' Union, it is regarded as certain that the minimum price for the new crop of cotton will be fixed above 12 cents. Some of the leaders favor 15 cents, and a compromise probably will result in 13 or 14 cents being agreed on.

A selling agency, calling for concentration of the cotton being held and sales in bulk direct to the spinner, thus eliminating the middlemen, has been perfected by the national cotton handling committee. The spinners are said to have formed an alliance with the farmers, and will aid in eliminating the middleman.

The fight on the "bucket shop" will be renewed by the convention. It is announced that a committee including one farmer from each state will be maintained during the next congress, instructed to secure the enactment of a law preventing telegraph and telephone lines from transmitting, and newspapers from publishing what they term fictitious market quotations.

Exploring Party Reported Safe.
Stockholm, Sept. 2.—Sven Hayn,
the Swedish explorer, who, in 1900, started from Chinese Turkestan on a journey of exploration to Tibet and who was last heard from in the summer of 1907, has sent a letter to his parents here, which they have just received, stating that he and his party are safe and that they will arrive in Simla early in September.

Editors Have Fatal Duel.

Manzanillo, Sept. 2.—In a street duel, which was the outcome of a political quarrel, Manuel Elias, editor of the Conservative El Vigilante, was shot and killed by Manuel Estrada, editor of the liberal paper El Reporter, and also liberal candidate for congressman.

Shot and Killed Husband.

Jonesboro, Ark., Sept. 2.—Mrs.
Arch Pickett Tuesday shot and killed her husband, a well known resident of Jonesboro, because she alleged he was "mean to her and abused her." Mrs. Pickett escaped with her stepfather, a prominent farmer, but both were arrested later. Mrs. Pickett is confined.

Found Dead in Woods.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 2.—A special agent of the Alabama state police, Albert, announced the death of Robert

Summers, a son of M. N. Summers, one of the county commissioners. The young man was hauling logs to a sawmill and failed to return home. The family became anxious about him and instituted search. He was found dead in the woods. It is supposed that a log rolled over him and crushed out his life.

HISGEN FORMALLY NOTIFIED.

Enthusiastic Meeting of Independence Party in New York.

New York, Sept. 2.—There was not room enough in the new club house of the Independence League to hold the large crowd that gathered Monday night for the dual purpose of being present at the notification of Thomas L. Hisgen, independence party candidate for president, and the housewarming of the club.

William R. Hearst and Mr. Hisgen entered the club house shortly after 9 o'clock, and were greeted by an outburst of cheering. Hisgen was enthusiastically referred to as "the trust buster" and "our next president."
These titles brought forth more cheering.

Many inquiries were made for John Temple Graves, the party's candidate
for vice president, but Mr. Graves
was not present, being at the Warm-
Sulphur Springs in Virginia.

When Mr. Hisgen's name was first
mentioned as the notification ceremony was about to take place, there was renewed cheering. Melvin G. Pal-
liser, chairman of the meeting, then

MR. BRYAN ON TOUR

Candidate Is Making Speeches In the Northwest.

IS RECEIVED WITH OVATIONS

Democratic Leader Is Eating Prairie Chickens, Making Speeches, Shaking Hands with Admirers and Having a Busy Time Generally.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 2.—William J.
Bryan, democratic candidate for the presidency, Tuesday continued his campaign in the northwest. Upon his arrival here early Tuesday morning he was met by Governor John Burke, State Chairman J. L. Cashel, National Committeeman Frank Collins, J. B.
Eaton, and many other prominent democrats and conducted to the Hotel Metropole, where Mr. Bryan, before partaking of breakfast, shook hands with the crowd which had gathered in the lobby.

At the station several hundred persons assembled and cheered the presidential candidate as he alighted from the train. A street demonstration was the feature of his visit, the people cheering, clapping hands and waving handkerchiefs.

After breakfast Mr. Bryan proceeded to the fair grounds and there held a reception preliminary to a speech.
At noon he was tendered a banquet.
Prairie chickens constituted one of the main dishes. Several other speeches are scheduled between here and Grand Forks, at which place Mr.
Bryan will talk on the issues of the campaign.

THE FLOOD SUFFERERS.

Six Thousand in Need of Clothing—Relief Measures.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 1.—Ten thousand people in Augusta are in actual need of clothing and bed-clothing.
Captain A. H. Huegel, U. S. A., sent here from Ft. McPherson, after a day's investigation, found 6,000 in such need. Augusta is battling bravely to ward off suffering, but still declines to ask outside aid, though saying the city will accept all contributions. Thousands of men are at work cleaning up and clearing up after the flood.

White and negro people on the Carolina side of the Savannah river opposite Augusta are appealing for aid.
There is, it is set out, the most severe destitution there, where houses and crops have been carried away.

Captain Huegel, of the department of the gulf of the United States army, has arrived in Augusta with authority to look over the situation and provide whatever relief is necessary. It is likely that tents and provisions will be ordered from army headquarters in Atlanta to Augusta and that the war department will make available $18-000 from the department's contingent fund.

Beech Hargis Trial.

Jackson, Ky., Sept. 2.—The trial of Beech Hargis for the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, will be held in Estill county, Judge Adams transferring the case to Irvine, in that county. The commonwealth had objected to the trial taking place in Jackson, claiming that a fair trial could not be had. A motion for bail in behalf of Beech Hargis will be by his attorneys.

BRYAN WILL GIVE ADVICE.

To Democratic Clubs as to the Line of the Campaign.

New York, Sept. 2.—William Jennings Bryan will write until election a letter to be sent to the secretaries of every democratic club giving advice and suggestion as to the line of campaign. This novel feature of a presidential struggle was made known on Monday by John L. Tomlinson, head of the bureau of club organization of the democratic national committee, who is now in this city organizing democratic clubs throughout the eastern states. The plan of organizing democratic clubs in voting precincts was devised by Mr. Bryan.

State Chairman William J. Connors has turned over to Mr. Tomlinson a list of 6,000 precinct committeemen in New York state who will be directed by the national committee to organize at once democratic clubs.

ON TRAIL OF BANDIT.

Officers May Catch the Man Who Robbed Twelve Stages.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 2.—Game Warden W. B. Morgan has received a telegram from United States Game Warden T. S. Palmer that the bandit who recently held up twelve stages in Yellowstone Park is believed to be William Binkley, who escaped from the National Guard house at Yellowstone Park in November. He had been given a three and a half years' sentence for shooting elk in the park.
Binkley was arrested by Morgan in Los Angeles, and the man was convicted on evidence secured through the efforts of the warden.

It is considered possible that Binkley is headed for Los Angeles and wardens and other officers will be on the watch for him from this time on.

FILIPINO KILLS SPANIARD.

Fatal Difficulty Among "Shrimpers" in Louisiana.

Houma, La., Sept. 2.—Anthony Rodriguez, a Spaniard, was shot and killed by Pablo Rosell, a Filipino, on Timbalier Island.

The men were "shrimpers" who were in the employ of a packing company and were in camp on the island at the time. A difficulty arose over a block of ice and they were engaged in a war of words from their respective camps, about 15 feet from each other, when Rodriguez dared the Filipino to shoot, and he fired the fatal shot.

Rosell was brought to Houman and placed in the Parish jail.

Accident To Royalty.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Particulars of an automobile accident to Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm and the Crown Princess during their recent visit to Metz have just leaked out. A hay cart forced the prince's motor into a ditch where it turned over. The occupants of the car suffered no injury but were unable to get from under the machine until peasants came to their assistance. The crown prince handed over a sum of money for the benefit of the poor of that section.

Spanish War Veterans.

Boston, Sept. 2.—Soldiers and sailors who served in the army during the Spanish war gathered Tuesday at Fa-nuel hall, more than five thousand strong, for the formal opening of the fifth annual encampment of the Spanish war veterans. The opening meeting was purely routine, consisting entirely of reports and encouragement organization.

Fire at Branchville, S. C.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 2.—Branchville was visited Monday morning by the greatest fire in its history. The fire was discovered in the store of A.
F. H. Dukes about 2 o'clock. The loss is estimated at about $50,000, with about $20,000 insurance.

CAMPAIGN PROGRESS

Political Conditions Discussed by Mack and Others.

EVERYTHING SATISFACTORY

Chairman Mack Says the East Can Be Relied Upon to Swell the Vote for Bryan—Rhode Island May Join the Democratic Column.

New York, Sept. 2.—Political conditions in the east were discussed at length Tuesday at a conference of National Chairman Mack, members of the national committee and heads of the various bureaus of the New York headquarters of the democratic national committee. Chairman Mack said that he had received reports from all the states along the Atlantic seaboard and that he was more than satisfied with the progress of the campaign and Chairman Mack urged upon his national committeemen to do all they could to aid in the organization of precinct democratic clubs.

National Committeeman George W.
Green, of Rhode Island, and Judge
Frank Fitzsimmons of Providence, R.
I., chairman of the state central committee informed Mr. Mack at the conference that they had every reason to believe that Rhode Island this year would cast its electoral votes for the democratic ticket.

Chairman Mack said that no selection had as yet been made for the vice chairman for the eastern headquarters. Chairman Mack is planning to be in Chicago by next Sunday.

WOMAN HEIR TO MILLIONS.
Notified She Owns Sixty-Five Acres in Heart of New York.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 2.—Noah K.
Ludlow, engineer of the steamer R.
E. Lee, in the famous race on the Mississippi river with the steamer Natchez, when the latter blew up, has been notified that his wife is heir to 65 acres of land in the heart of New York city, worth millions of dollars.

Mrs. Ludlow, it is claimed, is one of the few remaining heirs to the original owners of the property who gave a ninety-nine-year lease on the land, which lease is about to expire.
Active steps have been begun to recover Mrs. Ludlow's interest in the property.

MYSTERY DEEP AS EVER.

Veil May Never Be Lifted in Atlantic City Shooting.

Atlantic City, Sept. 2.—The condition of Charles H. Roberts, of Baltimore, who was dangerously shot last Wednesday night on the board walk, is said to be much improved at the city hospital.

The mystery surrounding the shooting is still as deep as ever and the impression is gaining ground that the veil will never be lifted. Mrs. W.
S. G. Williams has returned to her home near Baltimore, but Mrs. Roberts, wife of the victim, is still in this city.

Have Blocked Courtmartial.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 2.—It is reported in military circles here that the efforts of the state authorities to fix the blame for the actions of a number of members of the first squadron of cavalry in shooting off firearms near Mex, Ga., and wounding a negro employee of the Southern railway, have been blocked by the refusal of the militia involved to testify against their comrades, and that unless more evidence is secured in some unsuspected way that the proposed court-martial must be dropped.

$15,000 Shortage Discovered.

Havana, Sept. 2.—A shortage of upwards of $15,000 has been discovered in the bureau of supplies and vouchers and in the general postoffice of which Senator Rodriguez is chief. Rodriguez has not been seen in Havana since Friday and secret service police are unable to locate him. Rodriguez held the same post as Charles F.
Nally, who was convicted of extensive frauds during the first American intervention.

U. S. TAKES AN ISSUE.

Says County Tax Collector Must Not Sell Tyler Properties.

Owing to the fact that the United States Court has taken into consideration the right to interfere in State land matters, which has been adjudged by the United States Court in a jurisdiction outside of Florida, but in the State of New York, the county tax collector of Alachua county has been restrained by injunction from selling at delinquent tax sale next Monday the lands of the Tyler Lumber Company, bankrupts.

Several months ago the Tyler Lumber Company, who were not only conducting a big sawmill, but a town, between Newberry and Trenton, in the West End, were adjudged bankrupts. When the case first went into courts it was taken to the United States Court in the Southern District of New York, and from this court was transferred to the United States Court of the Northern District of Florida, which court ordered a restraining injunction to the tax collector of Alachua county forbidding him to sell any real estate for taxes, inasmuch as it would interfere with the sale in bankruptcy. He sets forth that if the county tax collector should levy on the property in question he will probably be unable to carry his sale through.

Returned to Palatka.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thomas and baby and Neill Thomas left yesterday for Palatka, where they will take up their future home. A. Thomas. She was afterwards removed to Mr. Thomas' home on North Pleasant street, where she completely recovered. She is all right now, and friends trust that she will never have another like experience. Mrs. Thomas was overcome by excessive heat, having been ill for several days before.

Joe Ettel's Experience.

J. A. Ettel has returned from Union, S. C., where he went to meet his father and mother, who are spending a few days there after an extended tour of Europe. His friends are glad to welcome him home again, for his smiling face has been missed at the Brown House during the past week.

THE SUN IN EUROPE.

Appreciated Letter from Mr. John W. Ettel.

Editor of The Sun was truly pleased to receive the following letter from Mr. John W. Ettel, who with his wife, has just returned from an extended tour of the many Gainesville people who will extend a hearty welcome when they here, which we trust will be followed by the letter from Ettel, which is dated Union, S. C., August 29th:

While traveling about in Europe it was possible to obtain a copy of the American newspaper at Interlaken. I beg to express to you my appreciation for your promptness in mailing the Sun to the various addresses.

The always interesting contents of the Sun were appreciated more than the general news contained on the page, and I assure you the copies received at Bremen were eagerly not only by our family but also by a host of American home, affording them an opportunity to get the most interesting news in a condensed form.

While in Europe we visited the modern hotel conditions of our country, and I was also so fortunate as to learn of a practically new way to lift water from great depths, which will put me in a position to tap the underground sulphur at White Springs, and to arrange a private bathing pool for the use of the guests of "The Hamilton," which it is my intention to start building as soon as my other plans are perfected. We are visiting our daughter at place, and shall go from here to our country home at Fairhope, Ala., while to rest up, and then hope to be in Gainesville ready to start building.

"Yours very truly,
JOHN W. ETTTEL."

Hard Road to Gulf.

The question of building a hard road from Gainesville to the Gulf, the end point being Cedar Key via the old point of Levy county. The latter has very few miles of hard road but only a short distance would be constructed by Alachua county to make the connection. A road to the Gulf would be of great convenience, especially to the west of the western part of Alachua county, and it is to be hoped that the project will be pushed to a successful conclusion.

WILL ADVERTISE SANATORIUM.

Dr. Marsh is Getting Out Number of Handsome Illustrated Booklets.

Dr. C. F. Marsh, in charge of the National Odd Fellows' Home and Sanatorium, is preparing to have printed an issue of 10,000 or more booklets, illustrated profusely, advertising Gainesville and the institution, which will no doubt prove of great value to the city and the Sanatorium.

Dr. Marsh has already compiled the work. Besides the descriptive write-up of this city and section, in which is embodied the great climatic, moral, educational and other advantages of Gainesville, there will be eight illustrations of the Sanatorium, exterior and interior, pleasing street scenes, residences and business buildings, etc.

This work is destined to prove of a great mutual benefit, as it will be attractively printed and thoroughly distributed throughout the country.

TO OCCUPY NEW QUARTERS.

Coca-Cola Company Will Have Larger Working Capacity.

Owing to the increasing business of the Gainesville Coca-Cola Bottling Works, which has been in operation in this city for less than a year, Manager Boltin is needing more space for the manufacture of this popular beverage, with the result that he has contracted for a more commodious building in which to work.

A new building is now being erected on East Depot street, near the Seaboard Air Line station, which will afford more than double the space now being used by the Coca-Cola Company. Manager Boltin states that he is very sorry to be compelled to leave the business center, but inasmuch as there was no other place he could rent it became necessary to erect a building.

An Enjoyable Affair.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the hospitable home of Mrs. Burdett Pearson, Tuesday, in honor of her sisters, Misses Irene and Ruby Smith of Charleston, S. C. The diamond board bean game was introduced and enjoyed. The first prize for highest points made was won by Mr. Moody and Miss Nellie Goss, and consolation prize by Miss Bettie Goss. Among those present were Misses Ruby and Irene Smith, Miss Lotta Scarborough, Misses Bettie and Nellie Goss, Miss Lula Carter, Miss Shutt, Mr. Scarborough, Mr. Kite, Mr. Will Fagan, Mr. Moody, Mr. Lim Carter, Mr. McCarter and Mr. John Goss.

Refreshments and music wound up the pleasant evening.

A Handsome Home.

The handsome residence of Mrs. Kate Denton, East Orange street, which has been under course of erection for the past few weeks, is nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy within the next two weeks.

This home, which has already been leased by Prof. Hochstrasser and family, will be one of the handsomest and most modern in the city. It will be two stories in height, with eight rooms and bath, and the owner may well feel proud of her new possession.

BASEBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

Waldo and Archer at the Park in This City Today.

The Waldo and Archer baseball teams will meet in this city today to contest for the championship, or, in other words, for the best two-out-of-three, each team having won one game during the season. Inasmuch as the two clubs are even as far as games are concerned, it was decided by the managers of the teams to play the third game on neutral grounds, hence Gainesville was selected as the battle-ground in the final game of the series.

There is considerable rivalry between the boys composing those clubs, and it is said that both teams have been practicing regularly for the past few days in anticipation of the contest to be pulled off here today. There are some good players among them, and those who witness the game are assured of their money's worth.

The fun will start promptly at 3:30 at the ball park, and it is likely that both clubs will be accompanied by a good-sized delegation of rooters.

WILL HEAR COMPLAINTS.

Special Meeting of County Commissioners Will be Held Monday.

The Board of County Commissioners will convene in this city on next Monday, the 7th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of hearing and determining all complaints which may be made by those upon whose property the commissioners have raised the assessment for the current year.

The list of property upon which the board has increased the assessment has appeared in the Monday issue of The Semi-Weekly Sun for the past three weeks. The list includes both real and personal property.

North Gainesville Marriage.

There was a happy marriage in North Gainesville at an early hour Wednesday morning, the contracting parties being Glen D. Roth and Miss Maggie L. Williams, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Williams.

The ceremony was performed in a most impressive manner by Rev. I. E. Webster, at the home of the bride's parents. While the affair was a very quiet one, only the members of the immediate families of the contracting parties being present, it was a beautiful and impressive ceremony, after which the happy young people received the congratulations of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Roth left on the early morning train via Seaboard for Jacksonville and Pablo, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The contracting parties are well known and popular young people of North Gainesville, and their many friends extend best wishes for a long and happy life of conjugal bliss.

HAVE YOU BEAUTIFUL HAIR?
IF NOT, WHY NOT?

Perhaps you've read the short story that has been published of late in all the papers about Miss Tillie Root of Webster, N. C., who has such beautiful hair that none other in Webster can compare with it.

At one time Miss Root had faded, harsh and falling hair, but as she says herself, after using two bottles of Parisian Sage she now has the finest head of hair in town.

Parisian Sage will make any woman's hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant, and it is such a delightful hair dressing, that once used it is always preferred.

Parisian Sage is the most invigorating antiseptic hair restorer known to mankind. It is guaranteed, rigidly guaranteed, to cure dandruff in two weeks, to stop falling hair or itching scalp, or money back.

It is a highly satisfactory dressing for summer use, because it drives away all disagreeable odors, and leaves the scalp cool and clean.

W. M. Johnson, the druggist, sells it, and guarantees it. Price is only 50 cents for a large bottle. Ask him about it, or you can buy it direct at the same price, express charges prepaid, from Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Atlantic City is evidently troubled with a lid that won't stay on.

If a flying machine really has to go anywhere it takes the railroad or a steamboat.

If all the campaign lies are to be spiked, the nail industry should be looking up.

It's a wise plan to have something ready for market when everybody else hasn't got it.

It is going to be a whirlwind campaign, but so far we've had more wind than whirl.

Push is what enables a man to do the work of December in September and not in January.

There's no "mystery" about how to sell property—but there's a good deal of advertising about it.

"There isn't a fat King in Europe," says a London paper. Nearly all of them have fat jobs, however.

If Capt. Hains finds time hanging too heavily on his hands, he might study Harry Thaw's expense account.

Hon. David B. Hill was Richard Croker's guest in Ireland recently. My, but what a talking over of old times there must have been.

The Turkish populace cheered the Sultan as he drove through the streets of Constantinople. The people evidently thought he was going away.

David Belasco, who claims that he can make a good snowstorm for 20 cents, closes his theaters during the time of year when they would do the most good.

Your chances of securing a job through advertising are good—even though jobs are scarce. Without advertising, your chances would be poor—even if jobs were not scarce.

We advise the "Young Turks" not to get too enthusiastic about the fact that the Sultan has granted them a "general assembly." We have had one for years, and we don't know what on earth to do with it yet.

It may be of interest to farmers to know rural carriers are not required by the Postoffice Department to deliver mail where vicious dogs are kept. In such cases the animals must be removed or delivery will be discontinued.

Mr. Chaffin promises, if elected President, and Congress refuses to pass a national prohibition law, to call out the militia and the standing army and enforce prohibition in every inch of territory under the American flag. Now, will you worry over the coming election?

Tuesday night's fire was only another instance which should go to prove that Gainesville's water mains should be extended. Mr. Baird's loss is a severe blow to him and a blow to the progress of Gainesville, for many men are today without employment. At this time we have not learned whether the plant will be rebuilt or not.

THERE ARE ISSUES.

The Republicans are trying to make the voters believe that there is practically no issue in this campaign, but issues are appearing rapidly, and issues of such character are developing as will overwhelm them at the November polls. The tariff has loomed above the horizon in a very threatening manner to the Republican interest.

The Republicans have been preaching the doctrine of protection for years and years and the fallacy of that doctrine has been overwhelmingly established, and in fact, the word protection means now nothing more than protection to the trusts. The protective tariff is not in the interest of the people, but of these rapacious trusts that are gouging every cent possible out of Americans. For instance, the great steel trust is selling rails in London for $23 per ton and are charging the Americans $28 per ton. If it were not for the tariff they would be compelled to sell the steel rails to the Americans at the same rate that they sell them to the English, but they, having the benefit of the high tariff, can exclude the competition of the English manufacturers and thus prey on the Americans at their pleasure. The same is true of the wire nail trust, which is charging the farmers 50 per cent more for their wire, fences and nails than they do the foreigners. The same is true of household articles; the sewing machine trust is selling machines in London and Paris for about $15 less than they are to the American consumer. The same is also true of the watch trust, and numbers and numbers of articles can be mentioned along the same line. The American people have been tricked and defrauded on these lines long enough, and the worm is going to turn, and with it they will turn the Republican party out of power, for they have not only permitted this tariff robbery to go on but they have done absolutely nothing effective in the way of curbing these great trusts. In fact, they are as strong today as they were when Roosevelt came into power. This is shown by the ease with which they nullified the $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil Company in the circuit court of appeals. The trusts absolutely own the Republican party. We cannot bring relief to the people until the Republicans are kicked out of power. Turn the rascals out.

UNITED STATES LEADS THE WORLD IN SALT INDUSTRY.

The United States not only produced 96.5 per cent of the salt consumed within its borders in 1907, but exported nearly 62,000,000 pounds valued at more than a quarter of a million dollars, according to W. C. Phalen, whose report on the salt and bromine industry of this country for the last calendar year has just been published by the United States Geological Survey as an advance chapter from its annual volume on the country's mineral resources.

The salt production of the United States in 1907 amounted to 29,704,123 barrels of 280 pounds, valued at $7,439,551—an increase of 1,531,748 barrels in quantity and of $781,201 in value over the output in 1906. Expressed on a tonnage basis, these quantities represent an output of 4,158,578 short tons in 1907, or 214,445 short tons in excess of the production in 1906. The average net value of the product in 1907 was 25.046 cents per barrel, or $1.79 cents per short ton, as against 23.624 cents per barrel, or $1.69 per ton, in 1906, an increase for 1907 of 1.412 cents per barrel, or 10 cents per ton.

THE SECRET OF THE SEA.

The secret of the sea lies in its service as an equalizer of competitive costs in industry and commerce. The connection just completed of the ancient city of Ghent with the Atlantic by a channel twenty miles long and twenty-eight and one-half feet deep shows with what determination the cities even of the old world insist on reaching the seaboard.

In this particular case it was American cotton that Ghent sought most, together with other materials which the United States produces abundantly. As soon as this port is ready for handling cargoes, a trans-Atlantic connection of freight boats will be running between Ghent and Galveston, Texas. This adds another city to the ports which, like Manchester, have rightly insisted that their life depends upon direct connection with the ocean. With the sea at its service, the conditions of competition can be more nearly equalized than by any other means.

Although it has been proclaimed again and again that our public lands are gone, Washington despatches just advise the country that the opening of a single county in South Dakota, comprising the surplus lands of the Rosebud Indian Reservation, will be made for the benefit of settlers six weeks hence. Nor is this only a small strip unworthy of special notice. The fact is that these new lands comprise 800,000 acres, or precisely the size of the State of Rhode Island. Although that is the smallest State in the United States, to throw open a reservation as large as the smallest State is no little event in the enlargement of the area of the settlement of people upon the land. If these settlers take an average of 160 acres each there could be 5,000 more farms made out of the tract incorporated into the nation for rural settlement.

A magazine writer says that American cities have no distinctive smell of their own. Tarry a bit in Pittsburgh, stranger; spend an hour in Chicago; sniff the malted breeze of Milwaukee.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs. The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It can't be the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

NEEDED AFTER ALL.

Chance For the Book Agent After He Got in Trim.

"Madam," said the book canvasser, the door was opened by a very young maid, "I am selling a new book on etiquette and deportment."

"Oh, you are," she responded. "Go on there on the grass and clean your mud off your feet."

"Yes," and he went. "As I was saying, ma'am," he continued as he came to the door, "I am sell—"

"Take off your hat! Never address a strange lady at her door without removing your hat."

"Yes," and off went the hat. "Now, then, as I was saying—"

"Take your hands out of your pockets. No gentleman ever carries his hands there."

"Yes," and his hands clutched his lapels. "Now, ma'am, this work is all—"

"Throw away your cigarette. If a gentleman uses tobacco he is careful not to disgust others by the habit."

"Yes," and the tobacco disappeared. "Now, ma'am," as he wiped his brow, "in calling your attention to this valuable—"

"Wait. Put that dirty handkerchief out of sight. I don't want your book. I am only the hired girl. You can come in, however, and talk with the lady of the house. She called me a slut this morning, and I think she has something of the kind."—Sketch.

LITERARY HERESY?

Chaucer, Spenser, Milton, Byron and Shakespeare Bores?

"We had the notion of doing something of the kind," the Easy Chair announced when requested to furnish a list of the hundred best authors, "but we could not think of more than a dozen really first rate authors, and if we had begun to compile a list of the best authors we would have had to leave out most of our works. Nearly all the classics would have gone by the board. What have we should have made with the English poets! The Elizabethan dramatists would mostly have fallen under the ban of our negation to a play if it is a man. Chaucer, but for a few poems, is impossible; Spenser's poetry is generally duller than presidential addresses; Milton is a trial of the spirit in three-fourths of his verse; Wordsworth is only not so bad as Byron. Who thought him so much worse; Shakespeare himself when he is reverently supposed not to be Shakespeare reading the martyrs; Dante's science and politics outweigh his poetry a commandment, and so on through the whole catalogue."—William Dean Howells in Harper's Magazine.

To take a picture of your voice it is necessary to tie a sheet of thin, strong paper over the wide end of a trumpet. Hold it with the sheet of paper upward, take a thin pinch of the sand and place it in the center of the paper, hold the trumpet vertically above your face and sing a note into the lower end. Do not blow, but sing the note. Lower the trumpet carefully and look at the sand. You will find that the vibrations of your voice have scattered the pinch of sand into a beautiful sound picture. Every note of the musical scale will produce a different picture, so you may produce a variety of them. Some of these pictures look like pansies, roses and other flowers; some look like snakes and others like flying birds. In fact, there is no limit to the variation.

Smoothing It Over.

"That individual—I'm going to square him with you right now! You've been telling it around that I lie!"

"The Other Man—Nothing of the sort. All I have said about you is that you are habitually untruthful."

"That individual (calming down)—Oh, I don't mind that. If that's all, I acknowledge I do get that way once in awhile. But how can a fellow help it when everybody insists on treating him—Chicago Tribune.

A Good and Safe Rule.

"It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness or speaking a true word or making a friend."—John Ruskin.

A Man's Idea.

"A man's idea of a becoming hat for his wife is a hat that costs $1.25."—Boston American.

THE "LAST SUPPER."

Singular Story of the Masterpiece of Leonardo da Vinci.

Moldering away on the wall of the old monastery in Milan, Italy, hangs the famous "Last Supper" of Leonardo da Vinci. Like every masterpiece, the painting required many years of patient labor, and as a result of that labor it is perfect in its naturalness of expression and sublime in its story of love. In addition to these qualities, it has an incident in its history that contributes not a little toward making it the great teacher that it is.

It is said that the artist, in painting the faces of the apostles, studied the countenances of good men whom he knew. When, however, he was ready to paint the face of Jesus in the picture he could find none that would satisfy his conception. The face that would serve as a model for the face of Christ must be dignified in its simplicity and majestic in its sweetness. After several years of careful search the painter happened to meet one, Pietro Bandinelli, a choir boy of exquisite voice, belonging to the cathedral. Being struck by the beautiful features and tender manner that bespoke an angelic soul, the artist induced the boy to be the study for the painting of the face of Jesus.

All was done most carefully and reverently, but the picture was as yet incomplete, for the face of Judas was absent. Again the painter with the zeal of a true lover of his art, set about in search of a countenance that might serve for the face of the traitor. Some years passed before his search was rewarded and the picture finally completed. As the artist was about to dismiss the miserable and degraded wretch who had been his awful choice the man looked up at him and said, "You have painted me before." Horrified and dumb with amazement, the painter learned that the man was Pietro Bandinelli. During those intervening years Pietro had been at Rome studying music, had met with evil companions, had given himself up to drinking and gambling, had fallen into shameful dissipation and crime. The face that now was the model for the face of Judas had once been the model for the face of Christ. — Brooklyn Eagle.

A LOST JOKE.

Would Be Imitator of a Witty Man Made a Ludicrous Finish.

Congressman Quarles used to tell this: "I was a guest of a leading banker at dinner, one of your New York giants of finance, who had invited nearly a score of us to eat a bit, drink a bit and swap notions. Everything was lovely until the fifth course. The waiter was bringing in what appeared on the menu as 'langue fumee aux epinards,' what we common old roustabouts call smoked beef tongue with spinach—and my favorite dish. He tripped at the door and spilled the tongue and greens on the carpet. The host, equal to the occasion, relieved us all, especially the waiter, by saying jovially: 'There's no harm done, gentlemen. 'Tis merely a lapsus lingue.' It was about the cleverest play of words I ever heard."

"Among the guests was a Broadway merchant, up from the gutter, worth about $3,000,000 and proud of his vocabulary, which was not unlike Mrs. Malaprop's," continued Quarles. "He shook with merriment at the banker's wit. The happy effect induced him to give a dinner the following week, with about the same guests, and, as I happened to learn afterward, he had directed his servant to let fall a piece of roast beef on the floor. The servant faithfully performed his part. Down went a splendid first cut, weighing about fifteen pounds, the delicious juices spattering everywhere. We all felt hurt at the accident. Some even groaned. 'Be not uneasy, my friends,' chirruped the would-be witty host, 'tis only a lapsus lingue.'" — New York Press.

Snagging Salmon in Alaska.

I saw Indians on the Chilkat river fishing day and night. The fisherman walked along the bank carrying a pole on the end of which was a barbless steel hook.

Tossing the hook end of the pole into the stream, he turned it so that the elbow rested on the bottom. Then he gently drew the pole back and forth, and when he felt a fish strike the shaft he knew that a salmon was probably crossing over the pole, so he gave it a quick jerk, drove the hook into the fish's side and hauled it up on the bank.

This is called snagging salmon. — Forest and Stream.

Cupid's Hearty Appetite.

"You know," said the soulful youth, "music is the food of love!" — "Nonsense!" replied the practical fellow. "My love prefers lobster salad, terrapin and other expensive fodder." — Philadelphia Press.

Comforting.

"Will my husband live, doctor?" — "Well, madam, if he doesn't he'll come mighty close to it." — Judge.

SARTORIAL DILEMMAS.

Weighty Problems That Are Puzzling Our English Cousins.

A problem is put forward by a writer in a contemporary which gives food for thought. It is this: Suppose by some combination of circumstances you were faced by the alternative of wearing a frock coat with brown boots. Which would be the better way out of it—to wear a bowler or a tall hat? As the writer justly remarks, if you wear a bowler then the thing you have to explain away is the coat. If you wear a tall hat, you have only the boots to account for. We should advise those of our readers who find one morning that all the wearing apparel in the house had been stolen during the night with the exception of a frock coat, waistcoat, trousers, shirt, collar, vest, tie, a pair of brown boots and two hats—one tall, the other round—to cut the Gordian knot by staying in bed. Another of life's dilemmas which may face the traveler down the world's dusty highway has to do with collars. Suppose on arriving at a house for a week end and starting to dress for dinner you find that your evening collars have got wetted by your sponge or otherwise defaced. Should you wear a clean double collar or a dirty orthodox evening collar? In the former case you will be catty, but a thing of loathing to all properly constituted men. In the latter you will give the impression that you cannot afford the services of a laundry.—London Globe.

NAPOLEON'S HABITS.

The Great Warrior Was Fond of Perfume and Clean Linen.

It is pleasant to learn if one has Napoleon I. on the hero list that he had very dainty habits in personal matters; that he was fastidiously clean in his person, according to an article in a French contemporary, and poured eau de cologne into the water he washed in, then sponged his head with perfume and finally poured the remainder of the contents of the flask over his neck and shoulders. He was also extravagantly fond of clean linen and during his campaigns had relays of it sent to different places. In those days it did not cost a farm to have starched things laundered, for, in account with a famous laundress in Paris, the emperor's linen for one wash amounted to 386 pieces and cost only a trifle over $20.

This strikes an American as very reasonable, but his majesty never wore any article but once, and, as he always undressed himself without aid from his valet, his garments were literally cast to the four corners of the room. Napoleon's bill for eau de cologne, however, exceeded the washerwoman's by a large majority. It is a relief to learn that the Little Corporal was so much a dandy. Some of his predecessors in the Tuilleries were not blessed with such excellent habits if history is to be relied upon.

To Make Waxed Paper.

This is used for keeping substances which contain either a volatile aromatic ingredient or grease, which would penetrate through ordinary paper. On a flat sheet of copper over a gentle fire place a sheet of paper as a base and then lay a second sheet on the top of the first. Coat this second sheet with yellow or white wax and distribute the latter uniformly over the entire sheet by means of a sponge, exerting a little pressure, till the paper is everywhere transparent and consequently permeated by the wax. If the fire is too feeble, the process will be retarded. Too powerful a flame is still more harmful, as the paper is liable to become brown or black. Stearin may be used instead of wax.—Der Industrielle Geschäftsmann.

Sure to Be There.

An old Scotch farmer was lying on what he thought was his deathbed. He began to give orders to his wife about his funeral and the people to be invited. His wife, knowing that he was not dying, paid but little attention to his requests, and this so enraged the farmer that he rose on his elbow and cried out:

"What need I speak? There'll be naething done right unless I'm there myself!"

His wife, patting him on the shoulder, replied: "Toots, man, Bauldy! Keep yer min' easy. Ye'll be the principal man there."—Glasgow Times.

Where They Gas Away.

Of the late Langdon Smith, the brilliant journalist and author of New York, a Denver reporter narrated anecdotes the other day.

"I remember," he said, "my first visit to Washington. Smith, big and handsome and vivacious, showed me about. From an eminence a great pale dome rose up against the blue sky, the dome of the capitol.

"What is that?" said I.

"That?" said Smith. "Oh, that's the national gas works."

Gifts from the hand are silver and gold, but the heart gives that which neither silver nor gold can buy.—Beecher.

"Going Out to See a Man."
"Going out to see a man" was the invention of Artemus Ward. One night in the winter of 1865, when the humorist was about half through his lecture, he paralyzed his audience with the announcement that they would have to take a recess of fifteen minutes so as to enable him to go across the street to "see a man." H. R. Tracey, the editor of the Washington Republican, was in the audience and, seeing an opportunity to improve upon the joke, pencilled these lines and sent them to the platform:

"Dear Artemus—If you will place yourself under my guidance, I'll take you to 'see a man' without crossing the street."

Artemus accepted the invitation, and while the great audience impatiently but with much amusement awaited the reappearance of the humorist the latter was making the acquaintance of Aman, a well known restaurant keeper at that time, and luxuriating at a well laden refreshment board. Of course everybody "caught on to" the phrase, and men became fond of getting up between the acts and "going out to see Aman." The restaurateur's business from that time forward boomed. Men who would ordinarily sit quietly through an entertainment and behave themselves allowed themselves to be influenced by the contagion.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

He Was Careful of His Voice.

Brignoli, the famous tenor, was very susceptible to flattery, and it was said that once in New York when the orchestra vigorously applauded one of his favorite songs he was so touched that he came down to the footlights and invited them all to a champagne supper at the Everett House. The supper cost him $500.

Brignoll was very careful of his voice and was terribly afraid of drafts. It was once stated that during the winter it always took him three-quarters of an hour to get from his room to the street. First he would on leaving his room pace the hall for ten minutes to get acclimated. He then descended to the lobby, where the temperature was a little lower, and spent twenty minutes there. He then ventured to the vestibule, from which the door opened into the street. He would parade the vestibule for fifteen minutes, occasionally opening the door to let in a little cold air. Being now accustomed to a cool temperature, he would button up his coat and sally forth.

A Fast Record.

At a political convention held in Illinois the importance of nominating a popular man for a certain close district was thoroughly recognized. A speaker had just re-nominated a personal friend for the position and in an elaborate eulogy had presented in glowing terms his manifold merits, especially emphasizing his great services on the field of battle as well as in the pursuits of peace.

After he had finished a voice was heard in the rear of the room, "What we want is the man that will run the best."

In an instant the orator was again on his feet.

"If you think," he yelled, "that this convention can find anybody that can run better than the gentleman I have nominated, I point once more to his well known war record."—Lippincott's.

Mysterious Green.

To those who believe in the influence of color the shades of green afford an interesting study, not only because of the large number of green things found in nature, but the scale of greens is so varied.

Green is, or was, the chosen color of Venus or the Scandinavian goddess Freya and should be worn upon Friday, her name day.

The color has always been considered mysterious in its influence. All green creatures, such as snakes or birds, are weird, and people with what are known as green hazel eyes need to be carefully considered, and among clairvoyants green stands for intellectual power, just as they speak of the "bids of peace, rose of love and scarlet of anger."

His Honor Vindicated.

A couple of good natured Frenchmen got into a quarrel and challenged each other to fight. On the morning of the duel they and their seconds tramped through the woods to the fatal spot, when one of the duellists, the challenging party, tripped and fell. His second knifed him to his feet.

"I hope you are not much hurt," said the other cyclist.

"I'm not much hurt. I only bumped my nose on the ground."

"Does it bleed?"
"Yes, a little."

"Heaven be praised! Blood flows, and our heart is strengthened. Give me and my honor be vindicated. Give me your hand, old boy?"

Moral Lesson Lost

"Good for Squidgie! I have that since he quit drinking he has got rich."
"It's too bad to spoil that story, but it's the other way. Since he got rich he has quit drinking."—Chicago Tribune

Just a Fish Story.

Forty years ago, when my father captain of an East India trading vessel while off the coast of Africa near equator the ship's carpenter was sick and died. He was sewed up in canvas, and with him were several kit of tools and grindstone for him to sink him. Services were held the body committed to the sea.

Four days later the ship's boy overboard, and a great shark came under the stern and swallowed the before he could be reached.

The next day the shark was still following the ship. A shark hook baited and put over the stern, and shark was caught, but was so large could not be taken on board, and were obliged to shoot him. He looked so plump and large the mate, who an old whaler, wanted to go over side and cut the fish open. He lowered over and cut a hole in shark and was surprised to hear and on looking in saw the ship's turning the grindstone for the carpenter, who was sharpening ax to cut their way out.

My father, who is eighty years can vouch for this that it is a story.—Boston Journal.

His Old College Chums.

A conductor sent a new brakeman put some tramps off the train. They were riding in a box car. The brakeman dropped into the car and said "Where are you fellows going?" "Atchison," "Well, you can't go Atchison on this train, so get off." "You get," came the reply, and as brakeman was looking into the business end of a gun he took the given him and "got." He went back the caboose, and the conductor asked him if he had put the fellows "No," he answered, "I did not have the heart to put them off. They went to go to Atchison, and, besides, they are old schoolmates of mine." The conductor used some very strong language and then said he would throw them off himself. He went over to car and met with the same experience as the brakeman. When he got back the caboose, the brakeman said, "Did you put them off?" "Now, they schoolmates of mine too."—Wellington (Kan.) News.

Haley and the Duc de Morny.

It may not be generally known what circumstances Haley owed advancement in the French civil service to the Duc de Morny. The duke, amateur of the arts, had begun to write the libretto of a comic opera of which Offenbach was to provide the music. He found that he had not the time—perhaps that he had not the talent—finish it. He sought a collaborator, and Haley came to the rescue and kept his secret. When, therefore, the office of the ministry of Algeria, which he held, was suppressed he had no hesitation in asking his august patron for the post which he sought on the Journal Officiel. "The very thing!" exclaimed the duke. "There is six months' vacation when the chamber is not sitting so that you will have plenty of time to write for the stage." And he gave him a note to the head of the department, consisting of the simple word "Make arrangements to give the best the post for which he will ask you."—Westminster Gazette.

Nor a Hospital Either.

"Talking of our British cousins?" inquired the tax attorney of the Southern Pacific. "Well, I heard one the other day. Big fat Britisher shoved into one of those compartments at the last moment. There was an American in there reading his newspaper.

"It's sixty miles to my station," remarked the Englishman, "and I, an old chap, I'm treating myself for a wounded foot, and I say, if you don't mind, I'll put some of this iodine on my ankle. Beastly smelling stuff!"

"Go ahead," said the American. But when he got the full odor of it he shoved up a window and pulled out a cigar and lighted it and began puffing away vigorously.

"Here, here, my good fellow," protested the Englishman, "this is a smoking compartment!"—San Francisco Chronicle.

As Others See Us.

"Mem-sahib," asked a young East Indian girl of her English mistress, "why do you wear those sad colors? I don't like them."

"I am in mourning, Lattoo. It is the custom of English ladies."

"But black is the color of night, mem-sahib, and yet you believe that when you die you go to heaven at once. Then why not be glad for your friends who die and wear colors such as we see in birds and flowers and falling water when the sun shines? God doesn't make your colors. Ah, well, Christians are strange people!"—From "The Indian Alps."

FLORIDA NEWS..

A local company has been organized to manufacture the Klissimnee for the manufacture of cigars on a large scale.

Coleman truckers are very busy now getting ready to plant the fall crop of cabbage and beets, which will be much smaller than last season.

The city council of Tallahassee is seriously considering the purchase of the Capital Light and Fuel Company's plant, which would place under municipal control the electric light, gas and waterworks plants.

The building record for the month of August in Jacksonville fell a little short of the record for July, but nevertheless the record is an excellent showing for progressive Jacksonville, and shows the go-ahead spirit of the citizens of that city.

Judge R. M. Call has made the final order in the disbarment proceedings against J. E. Bowman, the negro lawyer who is now serving a term of years in the convict camp of H. L. Wilkinson, near St. Petersburg. Bowman was convicted of forging Judge Call's name to a divorce paper.

The traveling public will be pleased to learn that hereafter through train service between Jacksonville and Portsmouth and Richmond and Jacksonville and the East, which has been somewhat delayed recently on account of the floods in Georgia and South and North Carolina, was resumed by the Seaboard Air Line Tuesday.

About 100 to 120 barrels of fish are being shipped daily from Titusville—a fact more fish are being shipped from this place than ever before. Hook-and-line fishing is splendid, and big catches of trout, bass, whiting and other kinds of fish are being made daily, from the Titusville wharves, by men, women and children.—Titusville Advocate.

It is probable that through the efforts of Congressman Sparkman, the United States Government will make a survey of the Klissimnee river to ascertain whether it would be feasible to place locks therein to hold the water so that navigation would be permanently established between all points on the Klissimnee river and Lake Okeechobee.

The parlor and sleeping car service on the Florida East Coast railroad has passed to the control of the Pullman Car Company, which company will operate their finest cars along the East Coast in the future. The Pullman Company has at the same time purchased all of the East Coast parlor and sleeping cars, which will later on be sent to

There is no scarcity of water in the flatwoods between the sand hills and the coast. The rains are filling them, as well as the ponds, streams and lakes. For several years there has been little water in the ranges between here and the coast, and during the long drought last year it was difficult for cattle to get water. The St. Johns river is higher than it has been for years.—Volusia County Record.

Captain E. A. Moreno, of the Hillsborough Guards, Tampa, who was recently reinstated in his command, has been made post commander at Tampa by reason of his rank as the senior captain of the local companies. Capt. Max P. Moritz of the Tampa Light Infantry has been acting post commander, pending the court martial proceedings which tried Major M. Henry Cohen and Capt. E. A. Moreno, and upon the exoneration of Capt. Moreno his appointment as post commander followed.

Joe Jackson, a negro, was arrested in Jacksonville for stealing pure water. Sometime ago the show window of a saloon on the corner of Bay and Davis streets was broken into and a quantity of gin stolen. Determined not to suffer loss again by thieves if his window was again broken the proprietor of the saloon filled some gin bottles with water and made his window display out of them. Tuesday night several of the bottles were stolen, but the proprietor had a good laugh up his sleeve, thinking that he had for once gotten the best of a thief. But to his surprise that night the thief, Joe Jackson, walked into his saloon with several bottles of the water under his arms, stating to the bartender that he had purchased the gin Saturday night and did not like the brand and wanted to exchange the same. Policeman Brown arrived on the scene in a few moments and took the negro to jail, where he is now docketed upon the charge of breaking and entering.

AN ORDERLY TOWN.

Three Days Have Passed Without Holding of Mayor's Court.

Gainesville may be recorded as one of the most orderly cities in Florida. For three days, including Monday, there has not been a single case, which is an excellent record as far as morality goes.

Mayor Horatio Davis is well pleased with the situation, as he realizes that he has a competent force of officials, and that any offender who comes under their surveillance will be immediately placed under arrest. The officers, however, good-naturedly declare that there is no money in the job now, as there are no fees.

What other city in Florida of the same population is there which can show the same record?

Marshal Arnow and Policeman Zetrouer are both efficient, and always have an eye to the best interests of the city and the people.

Danger of Fooling With Snakes.

In an Arizona saloon a great rattlesnake was once kept in a glass cage and a reward offered for the man who could hold his face against the glass and not dodge when the snake struck. The photographing of rattlesnakes is comparable to this—and the reward to the man who does not flinch is a good picture.

There is an enthusiast in Southern California whose dream it was to photograph a rattlesnake in the very act of striking. His method was to capture a snake and turn him loose on a large square of canvas. With feet far apart, he would approach his subject, holding a hand camera before him, until the snake reared to strike. Then he would snap the shutter, swing the camera back, and allow the snake to pass between his legs, leaping aside before it could bite him. His first season's work was cut short by a bad bite on the hand, but the next year he was mercifully spared until he had secured some very life-like pictures. Then he was bitten in the thumb, and this time he nearly died—but he got his picture! And the fact that he has been bitten easily doubles the market value of his photographs. Should anyone be curious, let me confess now that I have never been bitten. I would rather double my money some other way. It is a significant fact that while the snake photographer was twice bitten, his misfortune came each time, not from daring the rattlesnake with his camera, but from trying to handle it by the old "forky-stick" method.—From "The Gentle Art of Photographing Rattlesnakes," by Dane Coolidge, in The September Metropolitan Magazine.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Horebline makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Give Up Compress at Monroe, La.

Monroe, La., Sept. 2.—It is announced that the Gulf Compress company will give up the big cotton compress here, and that the plant will again be taken over by the Standard Warehouse and Compress company. The officials of the Gulf Compress company, which has been operating extensively throughout the gulf states, declined to say whether recent decisions in the courts, affecting their companies, had anything to do with the change.

Have You a Baby?

Then watch it closely. And above all things don't let it suffer for any length of time with worms—that is fatal. If its complexion gets yellow and pasty, if it is listless, cross or peevish, gets thin, suffers with flatulence, give it White's Cream Vermifuge. The only cure that never fails and has no bad effects. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

There is scarcely any one, no matter how vigorous and healthy, who does not need a tonic sometimes. Little physical irregularities upset the system, the appetite fails, digestion is poor, the body feels tired and worn out, and other unpleasant symptoms give warning that the system is disordered and needs assistance to ward off, perhaps, some serious sickness or ailment. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the best of all tonics, nature's medicine, made entirely of healing, cleansing, invigorating roots and herbs, a systemic remedy without an equal. S. S. S. has the additional value of being the greatest of all blood purifiers. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and brings about a return of health to those whose systems have been weakened or depleted. S. S. S. acts more promptly and pleasantly than any other medicine, and those who are run down in health should commence its use at once. It will thoroughly purify the blood and tone up the system. S. S. S. is admirably suited for a systemic remedy because it is free from minerals; it may be used without harmful results by persons of any age, and no unpleasant effects ever follow.

TELEPOST TO SPREAD OUT.

New Telegraph System Sends One Thousand Words a Minute.

New York, Sept. 2.—Another step forward in the establishment of a new national telegraph system has been taken in the invention by one of the Telepost Company's electrical engineers of an apparatus by the use of which small towns can obtain the benefit of the Telepost quick, low-priced service.

This new apparatus is similar to the more powerful Delany automatic machines, but is more compact and does not require electric currents, the power being supplied by a spring motor. The instrument is so small that it can be packed in an ordinary valise. With this mechanism small stations will be fully equipped to send and receive Telepost messages at rates of a thousand words a minute.

The perfection of this apparatus is an additional assurance that the new company will be able to carry out its promise of a flat rate of 25 cents for 25 words between all points. Experts in the employ of the Telepost Company are constantly at work on the construction of its apparatus, and large shipments are made of the automatic receiving and sending mechanism by which the Telepost will soon be flashing messages over the country at a higher rate of speed, and at lower cost, than has ever been possible heretofore.

Sold by W. M. Johnson.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Preppergates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalp of these same men once became infected with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newb's Horebline kills these germs and stimulates a healthy hair to abundant growth. Horebline is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and conditioner, not an alarm of infectious substance. Get the Horebline dandruff. Send for it at once for a free trial. ## GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

Tax Levy on Manufacture and Sale of Near Beer.

Atlanta, Sept. 2.—After much spirited debate the house committee on penitentiary and penitentiary matters, Monday afternoon, by an overwhelming vote, reported favorably the bill by Mr. Wise, of Fayette, to levy a tax on the manufacture, distribution and sale of near beer for the purpose of raising revenue for the care of the convicts after the abolition of the lease system.

It taxes the manufacturer of near beer and the distributor of the same $500 annually and makes it a general tax act. The firm, corporation or individual who sells near beer is to pay a tax of $200 per annum.

If the house adopts the amendment offered to the Perry substitute limiting by constitutional amendment, the lease system after Dec. 31, 1911, as proposed by Mr. Dunbar, of Richmond, the state may continue to gain some revenue from the working of its convicts, for this amendment provides that the constitutional amendment shall not prevent the working of these convicts on contract labor.

This amendment also provides that the convicts so worked shall be in the custody of the state, cared for by the state, clothed, guarded and worked by the state on contracts to be made for their hire. It simply provides that their labor, but not their bodies, shall be sold.

In the Senate.

The senate Monday consumed five hours' debate on the various convict bills originating in that body. There were during this time only four speakers, the time being divided among Senators Knight, Martin, Camp and Born.

The Holder bill was received in the senate and read for the first time. Upon this bill a number of senators who are looking for a speedy termination of the session are planning their hopes. If it is defeated, they predict that the session, which is costing $2,000 a day, will extend to the end of the month, and possibly into another month.

A number of members on both sides of the capitol were even discussing the probability of the session extending beyond the October election, and the necessity of issuing a call for an extraordinary session of the newly-elected legislature.

TRIAL OF HAINES BROTHERS.

Prosecution Will Be Advised by District Attorney Jerome.

New York, Sept. 1.—After a conference with District Attorney Jerome, with regard to the plan of the prosecution to be adopted in the trial of Captain Peter C. Haines, Jr., and his brother, T. Jenkins Haines, charged with the killing of William E. Anis on August 15, District Attorney Darrin, of Queens county, said that he was going to be largely governed in his preparation of the case by Mr. Jerome.

Mr. Darrin said he would do this because of the similarity between the case of Harry K. Thaw the prosecution of which Mr. Jerome directed, and that of the Haines brothers.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless aid to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retroversion or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

Killed by Fellow Prisoners.

Calcutta, Sept. 2.—Gossans, a native who was arrested with thirty others for complicity in the recent bomb outrages and who turned king's evidence, was killed by two fellow prisoners in a cell of the Alipor jail. The revolvers with which the man was killed were smuggled into the prison by relatives of the other prisoners.

EVERY NON-PROGRESSIVE MERCHANT

BECOMES

Your Competitor

When You Cease to Advertise Aggressively

WHEN a merchant "slows up" in his advertising, and concludes to "save a little money" in that direction, then the merchant who never had the courage and foresight to advertise adequately BECOMES A REAL COMPETITOR. Even the merchant who never advertises at all reaps a certain amount of profit from the "slowing up" process of the live store.

Not many merchants, of course, who have at any time set the pace for progressive advertising, will be content to take a backward plunge into the company of the non-progressives, of the LITTLE MERCHANTS, the easily satisfied ones, the un-awakes! But that is just what the "live one" does when he imagines that his advertising is costing too much, and that its curtailment means "saving."

If business conditions ever suggest retrenchment in advertising, the wise merchant knows that this should be interpreted as a signal for "full speed ahead," for redoubled efforts to WIN the business that does not come so easily as usual.

A WARNING

I have learned that certain persons are representing themselves as my agents, and taking orders for large pictures, claiming I will finish them. In some cases the pictures given them have been lost—pictures of dear ones which cannot be replaced. I have no agents, never did, and never will. I deal directly with my patrons for all work. I cannot afford to pay an agent out of the prices I charge for the high-grade work I do. Bring your enlarging to me and you are not only insured against loss of the original, but will have a guarantee of a faithful likeness and an artistic finish.

MANY STATES BALLOT

Elections Held For Governors, Congressmen, Etc.

THE WEATHER PREVAILED

Primary Elections For Various Offices

Were Held in the States of Louisiana, Michigan, Nebraska and Vermont.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 2.—Nomination for congress and state, parochial city offices were decided upon in general democratic primary which was held throughout Louisiana on Tuesday. In many instances committees have already decided upon the nominees, but there are contests in several congressional districts and several candidates for the supreme court. There are also several candidates for the vacancy on the Louisiana railroad commission.

In the sixth congressional district, Representative George K. Favrot was opposed by Robert O. Wickliffe and M. Lefebvre, while Representative A. P. Pujol, of the seventh congressional district, contests for the democratic nomination with William J. Bryan.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—Michigan cast their ballots Tuesday for the first time for the nomination by primary of candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. The contest which has attached to the fight for the republican nomination between State Auditor General B. Bradley and Governor Fred Warner, with State Railroad Commissioner Horatio S. Earle also active in the field, is expected to result in a reasonably heavy republican vote. Under the Michigan primary law, the vote of any candidate to receive more than 10 per cent of the total vote throws the nomination into the party convention, which meets to select the candidates for state officers below lieutenant governor.

John Thiemans, of Macon, has no chance for the democratic nomination for governor.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 2.—Clearly defined issues, popular candidates and an unusually large number of minor candidates, good weather conditions and the entire country turning out, there was every inducement for the voters of Vermont to go to the polls Tuesday for the annual state election. The candidates for governor and other officers, congressmen and members of the legislature, the leaders of the republican and democratic tickets, Lieutenant Governor George H. Sawyer and former Mayor James E. Burke of Burlington. The independent league, prohibitionists and socialists also presented candidates for office, but not for other state offices. The candidates were Quimby, Johnson, Brandon, Independence, Eugene M. Campbell, Lyndon, prohibition, and H. H. Dillas, socialist.

Lieutenant Governor Prouty's name was admitted by all opposing parties. Interest was centered in the issue of his plurality over former Governor Burke, and the strength of the Independence League movement in the state.

Nebraska, Sept. 2.—Primary election day in Nebraska opened with a heavy shower over the entire state. The election for places on the democratic ticket continued until midnight on Tuesday night.

James C. Dahlgren, who is a candidate for governor, made speeches in this city and South Omaha during the evening. The campaign manager says the democratic vote will be cast in the city and South Omaha during the evening. He expects the other candidates, George W. Herges and former Congressman Schellenberger, to receive their half about equally.

HISEN FORMALLY NOTIFIED.

Enthusiastic Meeting of Independence Party in New York.

New York, Sept. 2.—There was not room enough in the new club house of the Independence League to hold the large crowd that gathered Monday night for the dual purpose of being present at the notification of Thomas L. Hisgen, independence party candidate for president, and the housewarming of the club.

William R. Hearst and Mr. Hisgen entered the club house shortly after 9 o'clock, and were greeted by an outburst of cheering. Hisgen was enthusiastically referred to as "the trust buster" and "our next president." These titles brought forth more cheering.

Many inquiries were made for John Temple Graves, the party's candidate for vice president, but Mr. Graves was not present, being at the Warm-Sulphur Springs in Virginia.

When Mr. Hisgen's name was first mentioned as the notification ceremony was about to take place, there was renewed cheering. Melvin G. Palmer, chairman of the meeting, then turned the proceedings over to Henry A. Powell, chairman of the notification committee.

Mr. Powell told Mr. Hisgen accept. Mr. Powell told Mr. Hisgen that he had been selected as the standard-bearer of the new party, and Mr. Hisgen accepted the nomination in a speech outlining the principles and policies which he stands for.

PRICE ON COTTON.

Minimum Rate To Be Fixed by the Farmers' Union Convention.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 2.—On the eve of the annual convention of the Farmers' Union, it is regarded as certain that the minimum price for the new crop of cotton will be fixed above 12 cents. Some of the leaders favor 15 cents, and a compromise probably will result in 13 or 14 cents being agreed on.

A selling agency, calling for concentration of the cotton being held and sales in bulk direct to the spinner, thus eliminating the middlemen, has been perfected by the national cotton handling committee. The spinners are said to have formed an alliance with the farmers, and will aid in eliminating the middleman.

The fight on the "bucket shop" will be renewed by the convention. It is announced that a committee including one farmer from each state will be maintained during the next congress, instructed to secure the enactment of a law preventing telegraph and telephone lines from transmitting, and newspapers from publishing what they term fictitious market quotations.

THE FLOOD SUFFERERS.

Six Thousand in Need of Clothing—Relief Measures.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 2.—Ten thousand people in Augusta are in actual need of clothing and bed-clothing. Captain A. H. Huegel, U. S. A., sent here from Ft. McPherson, after a day's investigation, found 6,000 in such need. Augusta is battling bravely to ward off suffering, but still declines to ask outside aid, though saying the city will accept all contributions. Thousands of men are at work cleaning up and clearing up after the flood.

White and negro people on the Carolina side of the Savannah river opposite Augusta are appealing for aid. There is, it is set out, the most severe destitution there, where homes and crops have been carried away.

Captain Huegel, of the department of the Gulf of the United States army, has arrived in Augusta with authority to look over the situation and provide whatever relief is necessary. It is likely that tents and provisions will be ordered from army headquarters in Atlanta to Augusta and that the war department will make available $10,000 from the department's contingent fund.

Beech Hargis Trial.

Jackson, Ky., Sept. 2.—The trial of Beech Hargis for the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, will be held in Estill county, Judge Adams transferring the case to Irvine, in that county. ## BRYAN WILL GIVE ADVICE.

To Democratic Clubs as to the Line of the Campaign.

New York, Sept. 2.—William Jennings Bryan will write until election a letter to be sent to the secretaries of every democratic club giving advice and suggestion as to the line of campaign. This novel feature of a presidential struggle was made known on Monday by John L. Tomlinson, head of the bureau of club organization of the democratic national committee, who is now in this city organizing democratic clubs throughout the eastern states. The plan of organizing democratic clubs in voting precincts was devised by Mr. Bryan.

State Chairman William J. Connors has turned over to Mr. Tomlinson a list of 6,000 precinct committeemen in New York state who will be directed by the national committee to organize at once democratic clubs.

ON TRAIL OF BANDIT.

Officers May Catch the Man Who Robbed Twelve Stages.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 2.—Game Warden W. B. Morgan has received a telegram from United States Game Warden T. S. Palmer that the bandit who recently held up twelve stages in Yellowstone Park is believed to be William Binkley, who escaped from the National Guard house at Yellowstone Park in November. He had been given a three and a half years' sentence for shooting elk in the park. Binkley was arrested by Morgan in Los Angeles, and the man was convicted on evidence secured through the efforts of the warden.

It is considered possible that Binkley is headed for Los Angeles and warden and other officers will be on the watch for him from this time on.

FILIPINO KILLS SPANIARD.

Fatal Difficulty Among "Shrimpers" in Louisiana.

Houma, La., Sept. 2.—Anthony Rodriguez, a Spaniard, was shot and killed by Pablo Rosell, a Filipino, on Timberland Island.

The men were "shrimpers" who were in the employ of a packing company and were in camp on the island at the time. A difficulty arose over a flock of geese and they were engaged in a war of words from their respective camps, about 15 feet from each other, when Rodriguez dared the Filipino to a shot, and he fired the fatal shot.

Rosell was brought to Houma and placed in the Parish jail.

Accident To Royalty.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Particulars of an automobile accident to Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm and the Crown Princess during their recent visit to Metz have just leaked out. A hay cart forced the prince's motor into a ditch where it turned over. ## CAMPAIGN PROGRESS

Political Conditions Discussed by Mack and Others.

EVERYTHING SATISFACTORY

Chairman Mack Says the East Can Be Relied Upon to Swell the Vote for Bryan—Rhode Island May Join the Democratic Column.

New York, Sept. 2.—Political conditions in the east were discussed at length Tuesday at a conference of National Chairman Mack, members of the national committee and heads of the various bureaus of the New York headquarters of the democratic national committee. Chairman Mack said that he had received reports from all the states along the Atlantic seaboard and that he was more than satisfied with the progress of the campaign and Chairman Mack urged upon his national committeemen to do all they could to aid in the organization of precinct democratic clubs.

National Committeeman George W. Green, of Rhode Island, and Judge Frank Fitzsimmons of Providence, R. I., chairman of the state central committee informed Mr. Mack at the conference that they had every reason to believe that Rhode Island this year would cast its electoral votes for the democratic ticket.

Chairman Mack said that no selection had as yet been made for the vice chairman for the eastern headquarters. Chairman Mack is planning to be in Chicago by next Sunday.

WOMAN HEIR TO MILLIONS.

Notified She Owns Sixty-Five Acres in Heart of New York.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 2.—Noah K. Ludlow, engineer of the steamer R. E. Lee, in the famous race on the Mississippi river with the steamer Natchez, when the latter blew up, has been notified that his wife is heir to 65 acres of land in the heart of New York city, worth millions of dollars.

Mrs. Ludlow, it is claimed, is one of the few remaining heirs to the original owners of the property who gave a ninety-nine-year lease on the land, which lease is about to expire. Active steps have been begun to recover Mrs. Ludlow's interest in the property.

MYSTERY DEEP AS EVER.

Veil May Never Be Lifted in Atlantic City Shooting.

Atlantic City, Sept. 2.—The condition of Charles B. Roberts, of Baltimore, who was dangerously shot last Wednesday night on the board walk, is said to be much improved at the city hospital.

The mystery surrounding the shooting is still as deep as ever and the impression is gaining ground that the veil will never be lifted. Mrs. W. S. G. Williams has returned to her home near Baltimore, but Mrs. Roberts, wife of the victim, is still in this city.

Have Blocked Courtmartial.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 2.—It is reported in military circles here that the efforts of the state authorities to fix the blame for the actions of a number of members of the first squadron of cavalry in shooting off breeches near Rex, Ga., and wounding a negro employee of the Southern railway, have been blocked by the refusal of the militia involved to testify against their comrades, and that unless more evidence is secured in some unexpected way that the proposed courtmartial must be dropped.

$10,000 Shortage Discovered.

Havana, Sept. 2.—A shortage of upwards of $10,000 has been discovered in the bureau of supplies and vouchers and in the general postoffice of which General Rodriguez is chief. Rodriguez has not been seen in Havana since Friday and secret service police are unable to locate him. Rodriguez held the same post as Charles F. Nelly, who was convicted of extensive frauds during the first American intervention.

FINEST SHOWS EVER SEEN IN INTERIOR

Best Attractions Ever Booked for Gainesville Appreciative Audiences.

HIGH GUARANTEES ARE GIVEN

Manager Louis Kalbfeld Will Give Gainesville People the Very Best to Be Had in the Theatrical Line. "Merry Widow" Will Be Here.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

Gainesville will no longer be among the inferior show towns of the State, for the very best and finest of attractions are being booked for the amusement-loving public.

The new manager, Louis Kalbfeld, is a practical theatrical man, and as he is familiar with all the shows he is booking nothing but first-class companies for the season, and the attractions will be a surprise to the whole population of the city of Gainesville.

Many of the shows so far booked are companies that Mr. Kalbfeld will have to give a guarantee to secure them, and some of them run as high as $600 for each performance, while the greater part of the guarantees average $500 for each show.

He has not fully decided yet as to what he will place on for the opening bill, but is thinking of having "The Merry Widow" Company, who play "The Merry Widow," "Follies of 1908," and the "Red Feather," which will give an opening bill of three nights by one of the best companies now touring the country.

Among the leading attractions so far secured for Gainesville are: Jules Murray, who controls the Paul Gilmore shows, the very best to be had, and who have among their plays "The Boys of Company B," the Hacketts in "Classmates," Florence Gear in "Marrying Mary," and starring in "Cupid at Vassar," Mary Cahill, who proved a big success last season; Coburn's Minstrels; Hi Henry Minstrels; Dandy Dixie Minstrels; Geo. Thompson in "Funny Fellows of New York," Pickert's Comedians, and Geo. Ade's "Just Out of College."

He is also figuring on Al G. Field, and has the promise of securing this world-renowned attraction provided the show goes as far south as Tampa the coming season.

The above is only a small portion of the attractions already booked by the management, but they are given to show the public what they may expect from the new management of the opera house.

The mere fact that these companies play but very few places in the State is the reason that Mr. Kalbfeld was compelled to give them a guarantee of such a large amount, for the jumps they have to make is quite an item.

The principal places that these attractions will visit are Jacksonville, Pensacola, Tampa and Gainesville, while some of them will take in Palatka in the circuit.

This news will be gladly received by the people of Gainesville, as they can now rest assured that they will see the best that is going under the new manager and he seems to spare no expense or trouble in looking out for their interests.

We anticipate the demand made upon the capacity of the opera house will be even greater than has ever heretofore been experienced, for many people often refrained from visiting the entertainments for the mere fact that the class of performances were not up to what they deemed the standard.

ITCHING ECZEMA FIFTY-FIVE YEARS

Suffered Torments from Birth — Boils Formed as Big as Walnuts — In Frightful Condition and Could Hardly Work — Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail — At Last

WHOLLY CURED IN 8 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"I had an itching, tormenting eczema ever since I came into the world, and I am now a man fifty-five years old. I tried all kinds of medicines I heard of, but found no relief. I was truly in a frightful condition. At last my blood was so bad that I broke out all over with red and white boils, which kept growing until they were as big as walnuts, causing great pain and misery. I thought they would take the skin off my whole body, but I kept from scratching as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work. Mr. Nelson R. Burnett recommended the use of Cuticura Remedies, telling me he was confident they would benefit me, in time, cure me. I used the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I can truthfully say I am cured. I cordially recommend Cuticura Remedies to all who are afflicted the same as I was, believing that, if they will use them according to directions, they will find them all they are represented to be. Any one doubting the truth of the above can write to Mr. Burnett, who will cheerfully vouch for my statements."

"Hale Bordwell, R. F. D. 3, Cedar Corners, Tipton, Ia., Aug. 17, 1907."

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." J. W. McCollum & Co.

NEW WATER MAINS AND PLUGS ARRIVE

Additional Fire Protection is Now Assured More Citizens.

WAS ORDERED BY COUNCIL

Will Be Put Down by Superintendent Miller as Soon as Possible—Good News to Unprotected Sections of Growing City.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

Gainesville's water mains will now be extended into new territory, which will be gratifying news to the sections where this work has been ordered done.

The carload of mains and plugs necessary for the putting in of this work, which were ordered by the city some weeks since, have arrived, and Superintendent Miller will begin work at once placing them along the designated routes.

College Park will have the mains extended in that section, while the citizens in a portion of East Gainesville come in for the much-needed improvement.

A solid carload of the mains has been received, but it is doubtless that this will be sufficient to give other unprotected sections of the city protection.

LETTER TO W. R. THOMAS,

Gainesville, Florida.

Dear Sir: Mrs. S. C. Ashe's house in Yorkville, S. C., was painted Devos 21 years ago and hadn't been painted since; it is a handsome house and the paint was in good condition when we were there three years ago.

Do we therefore say that Devos wears 21 years in South Carolina? No; on the sandy coast, where the sun is hot and the flying sand cuts the bark off trees, Devos is the only paint that wears more than one year.

Localities differ; Devos doesn't differ. It is the paint that takes least gallons to cover a job and makes least cost and wears longest; how long depends on sun, wind, etc.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOS & CO.

P. S.: The S. J. Thomas Co. sell our paint.

Evergreen Cemetery Fenced.

Too much praise cannot be given Mesdames H. H. McCreary and F. D. Warner for their untiring efforts in having the above burial place enclosed by a substantial iron fence, the funds for the payment of which are nearly all now in, and the balance of which should be promptly forthcoming without further soliciting on the part of these ladies. It has been hard work for them to obtain the funds which warranted commencement of the work, and it is to be hoped that some of those who are able to do so will contribute sufficient funds with which to finish paying for the fence and gate, which must be paid for at once.

The New Pure Food and Drug Law.

Be Put on at Regular Time, about September 15th, Giving a Double Daily Service for Gainesville Over This Line.

Sunday's Daily Sun:

Withstanding the reports to the contrary, the double-daily service of the Atlantic Coast Line will again be operated through this city when the season opens.

The rumor which was current on the streets that Gainesville would be cut out of the service this fall, and that the trains would be operated via Leberry, on the West Coast division, was emphatically denied by the division superintendent in his office yesterday.

The informed reporter that the service was a fixture for this division, and that it would be inaugurated at the usual time, about September 15th, has always been their custom in operating the trains around this city.

This will be gratifying news to the traveling public and the citizenship of Gainesville, Ocala, Leesburg, and other important towns along this line. That it is a great convenience shown by the substantial local message that is accorded the service.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON FIRE.

House Occupied by Thos. Roebuck and Family Slightly Damaged.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

The vicinity of North Arredondo and West Orange streets was the scene of considerable excitement Sunday afternoon, when the roof of one of the Baird cottages, occupied by Thos. Roebuck and family, was discovered to be on fire. The family were all asleep, taking their afternoon nap, and were not aware of the fact that they were in danger until about the time the department arrived.

The alarm was turned in from that eventful box, 28, from whence a false alarm is issued in the majority of cases, but the department responded with its usual admirable promptness, and in a few moments had the flames under control.

The damage to the house will amount to about $75, while furniture damage will reach considerable, the dining-room and kitchen having been most effected.

Two Loves United in Marriage.

Judson, Fla., Sept. 1.—Mr. William F. Love and Mrs. Joseph E. Love, widow of the late Homer Love, were united in marriage here Sunday night, R. S. Tucker, notary public, performing the ceremony. They will make their home in Trenton, where the bride owns a nice residence. The happy couple have the best wishes of their hosts of friends for a long and happy married life.

The farmers hereabouts are all busy gathering their corn and cotton crops. The latter crop will be exceedingly short in this section, not more than half a crop being made. This is largely due to the continued dry spell and unusually hot weather after the rains did come.

The book has been read by the reporter, and to say the least it is well worthy of the time it requires to peruse it, as it is brim full of interesting references to thirty years' experience of the author.

QUAIL AND SQUIRREL.

They Like to Inhabit Woodlands in City—Become Very Gentle.

Quail are not very timid when they are not molested and soon learn not to fear man, if man shows no intention to harm them. There is a little piece of woodland less than half a city block in extent in Riverside surrounded by improved property in which quail and squirrel still live and the passengers on the street car line which passes it are sometimes charmed by the sight of a covey of quail or a bushy tailed rodent crossing the street a safe distance ahead of the car. The Miami News-Record recently told of a similar flock of quail sometimes seen on the streets of that city and The St. Augustine Meteor of the 21st has the following: "The early morning 'call' of quail right here in the heart of the city makes one think, on opening his peepers just after the dawn of day, that he's in the country. The favorite spots for these birds which annually seek city life as ideal in which to brood, are the old cemetery lot, on Cordova street, and the inviting grounds surrounding the beautiful homes of Mr. Albert Lewis and Dr. Anderson."—Times-Union.

There used to be a number of coveys of quail in this city in close proximity to the public square, and there are several coveys now within the corporate limits of Gainesville, but such a thing as a squirrel is never seen in this city now.

The Gussie was driven ashore in the September, 1905, hurricane that caused the loss of life of several hundred people in this vicinity.

Florida's own Frank Clark is doing great work, not only for the Democratic Congressional Committee, but for Florida. Every time he has an opportunity he insists upon talking about what a "good place Florida is to live in."—Pensacola Journal.

Application is being made for a saloon license at Perry, in Taylor county. The county has never voted on the liquor question and the "His X Mark" fellows have petitioned for a license. Some of the best people of the place will fight the granting of the permit.

Judge Malone has ordered the Democratic committee of the third Congressional district to reconvene on September 10th and canvass the vote according to the face of the returns. This will give Mays the nomination over Kehoe by 59 votes, but the latter will appeal to the supreme court.

We have yet to hear of a Bryan and Kern club being organized in Alachua county. The Democrats of Old Alachua do not appear to manifest much interest in politics since the primary, but when Bryan is elected it is dollars to doughnuts that the very fellows who did the least to bring about the result will "manifest" the most interest in obtaining the offices.

Through the efforts of Capt. T. J. McRae you will observe the The Sun's contribution to the Bryan and Kern campaign fund now amounts to $58.50, this gentleman having collected and turned over to us $31.50 of the total. If a few more Democrats would manifest the interest Capt. McRae has shown in the cause Alachua's contribution to the fund would reflect credit upon the Democracy of the county. Get to work and help the cause.

Subscribers to The Sun are asked to remember the postal regulation that forbids publishers extending more than one year of credit to their subscribers. Examine the date opposite your name printed on the margin of the paper and if you find yourself indebted to us send in a remittance without waiting for a statement. The Arcadia News says: "Help your children to do their best at school. How? Have them on time. Encourage them to be polite, studious, and kind. Arrange home duties so as to help and not hinder the school work. Soon the time for school will be passed. Better take advantage of the opportunity a great State offers to every boy and girl. Talk up the school. Try to help create a school atmosphere that will make strong men and noble women. A school is helped or hindered by the general, social and moral conditions outside. Make it the great common community interest to unite all."

HOW TO GET CHEAP MEAT.

The Federal Government, in its philanthropic way, has issued a pamphlet to tell us how to get cheap meats—evidently it is held that the high prices are due to our ignorance and the meat trusts are not to blame in the slightest, says The Times-Union. The poor trusts buy their meat on the hoof and must sell off the carcass to get back their money and a reasonable profit—Mr. Taft says the manufacturer must be guaranteed a reasonable profit by the Government in revising the tariff and, of course, the butcher is entitled to the same consideration. In fact everybody receives consideration from the Republican party now except the farmers and they are told that they should be thankful for good weather and the rain in season.

But the Government thinks that we sin against ourselves and the trust by insisting on having the choice cuts—"with proper cooking" the neck and the bones are as palatable and much more nutritious. The lazy or ignorant wife "can slap a sirloin steak on the griddle and put it on the table without trouble," wherefore she is wicked enough to prefer a steak to the neck, which is especially recommended to the consumption of the average citizen. Where the customers all insist on having the best the other portions cannot be sold and the trust must put the whole cost and the reasonable profit on these choice cuts, which makes them come high. The remedy prescribed by our Government for high priced meat is to eat the poor cuts and let the butcher keep the better ones—an old principle the party has always kept in view.

But we are especially interested in cheap meats for the South and the kind Philadelphia Inquirer gives us a prescription that beats that of the Government hands down:

The rattlesnake is one of the most edible of his tribe. In the South he is much esteemed as a diet. He lives on squirrels and mice and birds, and is not the dangerous creature most persons imagine. On the contrary, he is the highest of all snake creatures because he gives plenty of warning and does not desire to attack or to be attacked. He is best eaten after he has been dried or cured, much after the manner of codfish. In the South there is a fine way of smoking rattlesnake flesh, with the result that when you eat him there is a sort of smoky, gamy "je ne sais quoi" flavor that is at least enlivening—especially when you find out what you have been eating.

The President began by promising the trust should give us good meat at reasonable prices—he stormed and denounced for a season, but has now quit the field. Out of all this fuss and fury comes only the advice of the Government that we eat the necks and shanks, while a Republican paper insists that the rattlesnake is good enough for the South.

Thanks.

THE EDITOR'S PRAYER.

The following is going the rounds of the press without credit:

"I would flee from the city's rule and law—from its fashions and forms cut loose—and grow where the strawberry grows on its straw, and the gooseberry grows on its goose; where the catnip tree is climbed by the cat as she clutches for her prey, the guileless and unsuspecting rat, on the rattan bush at play; I will watch at ease the saffron cow and the cowlet in their glee, as they peal in joy from bough to bough on the top of a cowslip tree; and last while the partridge drums his drum, and the woodchuck chuckles his wood, and the dog devours his dogwood in the primitive solitude. O, let me drink from the moss-grown pump that was hewn from a pumpkin tree; eat mush and milk from a rural stamp, from form and fashion free—new garnered mirth from the mushroom vine, and milk from the milkweed sweet—with luscious pineapples from the wine; such food as the gods might eat! And then to the whitewashed dairy I'll turn, where the dairymaid hastening hies, her ruddy and gold-red butter to churn from the milk of butterdies; and I'll rise at morn with the earliest bird, to the fragrant farm-yard pass, and watch while the farmer turns his herd of grasshoppers out to graze."

Atlantic City is evidently troubled with a lid that won't stay on.

SEPARATION OF THE AGED.

"Whom God has joined together, let no man put asunder." That is a beautiful sentiment. You can see Mrs. James A. Roberts as a bride, and James A. Roberts, her husband, young, ambitious, happy. There is hand-shaking, kisses, good will; and so the young folks start on the trip through life together.

That was over fifty years ago. There must have been real love and trust, for at the end of a half century of married life they are still lovers. They have not prospered financially, although they have worked hard and well. They are now inmates of the Soldiers' Home in Jacksonville. The editor of this paper has known and esteemed them for twenty years. Eighteen years ago in Sumterville, then in Tampa and then in Punta Gorda, striving to make an honorable living. They have made friends everywhere they have lived. They are good, honest, Christian people. They have been readers of The Tribune from its first issue, and now write: "Send us The Tribune. We cannot get along without it."

Surely there should be a cheerful corner in that great building where an old husband and an old wife could end their days in comradeship. Surely there should be a neat little room, with easy chairs and some pictures, and a snowy white bed and a pot of flowers in the window.

No. The rules of infirmaries of this country, almost without exception, have little to do with sentiment. They are political institutions.

The very food the inmates eat is measured, and the central idea is to make a record for economy. The difference between a home and a Soldier's Home is as wide as the range of human thought.

So Capt. J. A. Roberts and his wife, after fifty years of married life, agreed to separate—he to go to the men's department, she to the women's.

It hurt; of course, it hurt. And it doesn't seem fair, and you know that the rule that caused the separation is a harsh rule. But it is the way that infirmaries are conducted.

"Whom God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

It doesn't mean much, does it?—Tampa Tribune.

MAJOR GEO. P. FOWLER.

An interesting visitor to Gainesville during the past week was Major Geo. P. Fowler of St. Augustine, who spent two days here. He is an old friend of the editor of The Sun, the acquaintance having been formed when the Major was postmaster at Cedar Key in the 70's and the writer was a mere youth. Major Fowler and our father were together in California during the great gold excitement of the 40's, and many are the interesting experiences we have listened to them relate. The Major was a member of the constitutional convention of 1885, as well as at one time State Senator from Putnam county, where he enjoyed an extensive law practice, being attorney for the Florida Southern railway, which position he relinquished in favor of Col. Robert W. Davis. Shortly after the big fire in Jacksonville he sold his law library and removed from Palatka to St. Augustine in order to get away from his large clientele, but his services were so continuously sought after that he again engaged in active practice and he is today the oldest practicing attorney in the State, being 83 years of age. Major Fowler is a veteran of the Mexican and Civil Wars, his commander in the Mexican campaign being Zacharia Taylor, afterwards President. He is exceedingly active for his age and is one of the most enthusiastic Elks in the country. We were glad to meet our old friend again and hope to see more of him in the future.

Hon. John G. Dampier, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Alachua county, has added his mite towards assisting in the election of Bryan and Kern, making the liberal contribution of $5 to The Sun's campaign fund. Mr. Dampier is a man who believes in "doing things," and in the dark days of Republican control was one of the hardest workers to wrest the county and State from the hands of the black phalanx. Others should follow Mr. Dampier's example and send us at least five dollars for the cause. Every cent will be needed, and more too. Don't send less than a dollar.

THERE ARE ISSUES.

The Republicans are trying to make the voters believe that there is practically no issue in this campaign, but issues are appearing rapidly, and issues of such character are developing as will overwhelm them at the November polls. The tariff has loomed above the horizon in a very threatening manner to the Republican interest.

The Republicans have been preaching the doctrine of protection for years and years and the fallacy of that doctrine has been overwhelmingly established, and in fact, the word protection means now nothing more than protection to the trusts. The protective tariff is not in the interest of the people, but of these rapacious trusts that are gouging every cent possible out of Americans. For instance, the great steel trust is selling rails in London for $22 per ton and are charging the Americans $28 per ton. If it were not for the tariff they would be compelled to sell the steel rails to the Americans at the same rate that they sell them to the English, but they, having the benefit of the high tariff, can exclude the competition of the English manufacturers and thus prey on the Americans at their pleasure. The same is true of the wire nail trust, which is charging the farmers 50 per cent more for their wire, fences and nails than they do the foreigners. The same is true of household articles; the sewing machine trust is selling machines in London and Paris for about $15 less than they are to the American consumer. The same is also true of the watch trust, and numbers and numbers of articles can be mentioned along the same line. The American people have been tricked and defrauded on these lines long enough, and the worm is going to turn, and with it they will turn the Republican party out of power, for they have not only permitted this tariff robbery to go on but they have done absolutely nothing effective in the way of curbing these great trusts. In fact, they are as strong today as they were when Roosevelt came into power. This is shown by the ease with which they nullified the $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil Company in the circuit court of appeals. The trusts absolutely own the Republican party. We cannot bring relief to the people until the Republicans are kicked out of power. Turn the rascals out.

If any one doubts that the life of a country editor is one of the happiest and most independent on earth let him read the following from The Palmetto News and be convinced: "We apologize for all mistakes made in former issues and say they were inexcusable, as all an editor has to do is to hunt news and clean the rollers and set type, sweep the floor and pen short items, and fold papers, and write wrappers, and make the paste, and mail the papers, and talk to visitors, and distribute type, and carry water, and saw wood and read the proofs, hunt the shears to write editorials and dodge the bills and dun delinquents, and take cussings from the whole force, and tell our subscribers that we must have money—we say that we've no business to make mistakes while attending to those little matters, and getting our living on fiddler soup flavored with imagination, and wearing old shoes and no collar and a patch on our pants, and obliged to turn a smiling countenance to the man who tells us our paper ain't worth a dollar, anyhow, and that he could make a better one with his eyes shut."—Times-Union.

Arthur Brown, manager of the Atwood Co's grapefruit grove at Manavista, in Manatee county, who has been in New York about a month, has returned to his Florida home. The Atwood grove is one of the finest in the State and Mr. Brown says they expect to have about 50,000 boxes of grapefruit this year, the quality being fine. "Last year we had only about 5,000 boxes," Mr. Brown recently remarked to The New York Packer man, "but this year we will have a fine crop. I believe there is more grapefruit growing in Manatee county than in any other county in Florida. The estimates I see of the grapefruit crop I believe are a little bit too liberal. I don't think the entire State will have over 2% per cent more than it had last year and the orange crop of Florida will not be any larger than it was last season. Manatee county is about—"

SOME SURPRISES COMING.

"There are going to be some surprises in New York State and New England States when the elections come around," said O. Blackburn, a soap and knit underwear manufacturer of New York and Providence. Mr. Blackburn made this statement to the Washington correspondent for The Louisville Courier-Journal. Then he added: "I think you find that after the votes are counted that Mr. Bryan will be the man who will occupy the White House, and your friend Taft. There is a change of sentiment throughout the Northeast that will not down, and it is for Bryan. The people there do look upon Bryan as they did two years ago. If you notice, several of the papers that were antagonistic to Bryan are slowly but certainly turning to him. I am a Democrat, voted for Roosevelt, and would do again; but I will not vote for his substitute, and that is the way many persons in that section of the country are talking. Many Republican business men—two of my partners for instance—are going to vote Bryan. One of them said a day or two ago that he thought Taft would, way, carry out Roosevelt's ideas, they were sure Bryan would catch all of them out. They want revisions in the tariff, and will do it if Bryan is elected. Another thing they are tired of the Cannon and feel that if Bryan is elected will in a measure mark the down of 'Uncle Joe' as king of the House of Representatives. In the case of New York State, which Republicans have always considered strongly theirs, an undercurrent moving that broods ill for the candidate who does not work for the farmers and small manufacturers' interests. In going through that section of the State bankers, farmers, business men are discussing the issues and platform Mr. Bryan stands on, and all that I could hear favorable. As I have said, they do not dislike Mr. Taft personally, they do not like the idea of his standing on Mr. Roosevelt's 'pins.'"

JEFFERSON'S HOME LIFE

A reader of The Commoner in the following description of Jefferson's home life and it is printed with pleasure and appreciation. Lieut. Hall, an Englishman, thus describes a visit to Jefferson's home:

"I slept at midnight at Monticello and left it in the morning with a feeling as the traveler quits mouldering remains of a Greek temple, or the pilgrim a fountain of the desert. It would, indeed, be a great torpor both of understanding and heart, to have looked with veneration and interest on the man who drew up the declaration of American independence; who sat in the councils by which heredom was established; whom the bought voice of his fellow-citizens called to the exercise of a dignity which his own moderation imposed on him, when such example was salutary, to withdraw; and who, he dedicates the evening of his long days to the pursuits of science and literature, shuns none of the humbler duties of private life, having filled a seat higher than that of kings, succeeds with greater ability to that of the good neighbor becomes the friendly adviser, the physician, and even gardener of a city. This is the 'still small voice' of philosophy, deeper and holier than the lightnings and earthquakes had preceded it. What monarch venture thus to exhibit his self-nakedness of his humanity? On royal brow would the laurel of the diadem!"

It is a beautiful tribute to a man whose heart was full of love for his fellows and who, while measuring to the highest duties of citizenship was not above the modest kind that beautify individual life and a neighborhood.—The Commoner.

To the old adage, "Be sure are right, then go ahead," should be added—but go ahead, nevertheless. Do things. Create something new. Have a motive. Have a motive and stick until it is obtained.

BIRD'S CRATE MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Conflagration Occurs at Early Hour This Morning.

EMPLOYED MANY HANDS

Destruction of Plant Will Mean Considerable Loss to City. From Commercial Standpoint—Was One of the Largest in the State.

Wednesday's Daily Sun:

Alarm from Box 82 summoned the department to the crossing of the railroad and Atlantic Coast Line tracks occurring at 1:20 o'clock, the cause of a fire in the large Baird crate facing to the location of the plant, which was nearly a quarter of a mile from the nearest hydrant, and to the fact that the entire building was in flames when the alarm was turned in, the department was practically powerless to cope with the situation, and as a result the entire plant, including much machinery, raw as well as finished, was destroyed.

The factory was one of the largest and most modernly equipped in the State, and employed a large number of hands during the season of the year. The origin of the fire is not known.

U. S. TAKES AN ISSUE.

County Tax Collector Must Not Sell Tyler Properties.

According to the fact that the United States Court has taken into consideration the right to interfere in State matters, which has been addressed by the United States Court in jurisdiction outside of Florida, but the State of New York, the county collector of Alachua county has been restrained by injunction from selling at delinquent tax sale next Monday the lands of the Tyler Lumber Company, bankrupts.

Several months ago the Tyler Lumber Company, who were not only conducting a big sawmill, but a town, between Newberry and Trenton, in the West End, were adjudged bankrupts. When the case first went into court it was taken to the United States Court in the Southern District of New York, and from this court was transferred to the United States Court in the Northern District of Florida. The court ordered a restraining injunction to the tax collector of Alachua county forbidding him to sell any estate for taxes, inasmuch as it would interfere with the sale in bankruptcy. He sets forth that if the county collector should levy on the property in question he will probably be unable to carry his sale through.

Hard Road to Gulf.

The question of building a hard road from Gainesville to the Gulf, the main point being Cedar Key via Palm Bay, is being agitated by some of the Levy county. The latter county has very few miles of hard road, but only a short distance would have to be constructed by Alachua county to make the connection. A road to the Gulf would be of great convenience, especially to the people of the western part of Alachua county, and it is to be hoped that the project will be pushed to a successful termination.

North Gainesville Marriage.

There was a happy marriage in North Gainesville at an early hour Wednesday morning, the contracting parties being Glen D. Roth and Miss Maggie L. Williams, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Williams.

The ceremony was performed in a most impressive manner by Rev. I. E. Webster, at the home of the bride's parents. While the affair was a very quiet one, only the members of the immediate families of the contracting parties being present, it was a beautiful and impressive ceremony, after which the happy young people received the congratulations of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Roth left on the early morning train via Seaboard for Jacksonville and Pablo, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The contracting parties are well known and popular young people of North Gainesville, and their many friends extend best wishes for a long and happy life of conjugal bliss.

An Enjoyable Affair.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the hospitable home of Mrs. Burdett Pearson, Tuesday, in honor of her sisters, Misses Irene and Ruby Smith of Charleston, S. C. Among those present were Misses Ruby and Irene Smith, Miss Letta Scarborough, Misses Bettie and Nellie Goss, Miss Letta Carter, Miss Shunt, Mr. Scarborough, Mr. Kite, Mr. Will Fagan, Mr. Moody, Mr. Lin Carter, Mr. McCarter and Mr. John Goss. Refreshments and music wound up the pleasant evening.

THE SUN IN EUROPE.

A Highly Appreciated Letter from Mr. John W. Ettel.

The editor of The Sun was truly pleased to receive the following letter from Mr. John W. Ettel, who with his estimable wife, has just returned to America from an extended tour of Europe. The many Gainesville friends of these good people will extend them a hearty welcome when they come here, which we trust will be soon. Following is the letter from Mr. Ettel, which is dated Union, S. C., August 29th:

"While traveling about in Europe it is only possible to obtain a copy of an American newspaper at intervals, and I beg to express to you my thanks for your promptness in mailing The Sun to the various addresses given.

"Besides the always interesting local news, we appreciated more than ever the general news contained on the first page, and I assure you the last dozen copies received at Bremen were read eagerly not only by ourselves, but also by a host of Americans returning home, affording them an opportunity to get the most important news in a condensed form.

"Some of our fellow travelers were so pleased with The Sun as even to express their determination to subscribe to your paper, and to have it sent after them on future trips abroad.

"At Karlsbad and other watering places we visited we made modern European hotel conditions our especial study, and I was also so fortunate as to learn of a practically new device to lift water from great depths, which will put me in a position to tap the underground sulphur springs at White Springs, and to arrange a private bathing pool for the exclusive use of the guests of 'The New Hamilton,' which it is my intention to start building as soon as some of my other plans are perfected.

"We are visiting our daughter at this place, and shall go from here to our country home at Fairhope, Ala., for a while to rest up, and then hope to have the pleasure to be in Gainesville until ready to start building.

"Yours very truly,

"JOHN W. ETTTEL."

TO OCCUPY NEW QUARTERS.

Coca-Cola Company Will Have Larger Working Capacity.

Owing to the increasing business of the Gainesville Coca-Cola Bottling Works, which has been in operation in this city for less than a year, Manager Boltin is needing more space for the manufacture of this popular beverage, with the result that he has contracted for a more commodious building in which to work.

A new building is now being erected on East Depot street, near the Seaboard Air Line station, which will afford more than double the space now being used by the Coca-Cola Company. Manager Boltin states that he is very sorry to be compelled to leave the business center, but inasmuch as there was no other place he could rent it became necessary to erect a building.

Returned to Palatka.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thomas and baby and Neill Thomas left yesterday for Palatka, where they will take up their future home. It will be remembered that several days ago Mrs. Thomas, who, with her baby, was taken from this city in an unconscious state, and removed to the Sanatorium, where her identity was not known until later, proving to be the wife of R. A. Thomas. She was afterwards removed to Mr. Thomas' home on North Pleasant street, where she completely recovered. She is all right now, and friends trust that she will never have another like experience. Mrs. Thomas was overcome by excessive heat, having been ill for several days before.

A Handsome Home.

The handsome residence of Mrs. Kate Denton, East Orange street, which has been under course of erection for the past few weeks, is nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy within the next two weeks.

This home, which has already been leased by Prof. Hochstrasser and family, will be one of the handsomest and most modern in the city. It will be two stories in height, with eight rooms and bath, and the owner may well feel proud of her new possession.

AN ORDERLY TOWN.

Three Days Have Passed Without Holding of Mayor's Court.

Gainesville may be recorded as one of the most orderly cities in Florida. For three days, including Monday, there has not been a single case, which is an excellent record as far as morality goes.

Mayor Horatio Davis is well pleased with the situation, as he realizes that he has a competent force of officials, and that any offender who comes under their surveillance will be immediately placed under arrest. The officers, however, good-naturedly declare that there is no money in the job now, as there are no fees.

What other city in Florida of the same population is there which can show the same record?

Marshal Arnow and Policeman Zetrouer are both efficient, and always have an eye to the best interests of the city and the people.

MELROSE NEWS NOTES.

Melrose, Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barnett and baby, and Miss May Barnett, left yesterday for Hawthorn. Mr. and Mrs. Barnett go in a few days to South Carolina to spend several weeks.

Mrs. Eliza Husband has returned, after an absence of three or four months in Illinois.

Rathie Yearwood left last week for Georgia to attend school this fall.

Mrs. T. L. Z. Barr and children returned with her mother, Mrs. Roberts, to White Springs.

Miss Minnie Lee was at home over Sunday.

Spear Yearwood recently returned from several weeks' stay at points in Georgia.

Rev. B. R. Moseley has been running a meeting at the Baptist church for the past two weeks, assisted by Rev. Thrasher of Hawthorn. Eight new members have been added to the church.

Joe Ettel's Experience.

J. A. Ettel has returned from Union, S. C., where he went to meet his father and mother, who are spending a few days there after an extended tour of Europe. He had considerable trouble making the trip on account of the floods and damage to the railroads, being compelled to remain in Columbia several hours and reach his destination in a roundabout way, and says he could have made the trip by private conveyance about as quick as he did by rail. His friends are glad to welcome him home again, for his smiling face has been missed at the Brown House during the past week.

BASEBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

Waldo and Archer at the Park in This City Today.

The Waldo and Archer baseball teams will meet in this city today to contest for the championship, or, in other words, for the best two-out-of-three, each team having won one game during the season. Inasmuch as the two clubs are even as far as games are concerned, it was decided by the managers of the teams to play the third game on neutral grounds, hence Gainesville was selected as the battle-ground in the final game of the series.

There is considerable rivalry between the boys composing those clubs, and it is said that both teams have been practicing regularly for the past few days in anticipation of the contest to be pulled off here today. There are some good players among them, and those who witness the game are assured of their money's worth.

The fun will start promptly at 3:30 at the ball park, and it is likely that both clubs will be accompanied by a good-sized delegation of rooters.

INCREASE IN LAST YEAR'S LUMBER CUT

AND THE WHY OF IT

Washington, Sept. 1.—Figures of the lumber cut in 1907 compiled by the Bureau of Census and the Forest Service showed the largest total ever reported in the United States, exceeding by over seven per cent the cut reported for 1906, and then the record year. This does not necessarily show a larger actual cut than in 1906, for the returns obtained last year were more complete than ever before. The figures themselves disclose some interesting facts.

In 1907, 23,850 mills made returns, and their production was over forty billion feet of lumber. This is believed to include 95 per cent of the actual cut. In 1906, 22,398 mills reported about thirty-seven and a half billion feet. Since according to these figures nearly 29 per cent more mills reported last year than the year before, while the increase in production was only a little over seven per cent, it might be thought that the amount actually manufactured must have been greater in the earlier year. This, however, would be a too hasty inference, for it is almost wholly among mills of small individual output that the gain in the number of establishments reporting has been made.

A classification of the returns by States and regions throws additional light on the situation. Individual changes, as for example the remarkable rise of Texas from eighth to third place among the lumber-producing States, are doubtless accounted for primarily by the greater accuracy of the 1907 figures; but in the majority of cases the advances and declines can be traced to specific influences.

Before the year closed the general business depression was severely felt in the lumber industry. It was not, however, the most important cause of a falling off in the production of the year where a falling off occurred, for decline in production took place only in certain regions. The South is the region of greatest activity in lumber production, and yellow pine the most important wood, forming 33 per cent of the entire cut of the country. The cut of yellow pine reported shows an increase of 13 per cent over that of 1906. In the early part of the year many of the Southern mills cut so heavily that, in spite of the curtailed output which followed the business disturbance later, the total was greater than ever before. But in both the Lake States and the Northwest a smaller cut was reported than for 1906, though the number of mills reporting increased.

In the Lake States the falling off evidenced the waning supply of white pine. Michigan, which for many years led all the States in lumber production, and then gave way to Wisconsin, sank in 1907 from fourth to seventh place, while Wisconsin went from third to fifth. Minnesota as late as 1905 held fourth place; last year it went from seventh to ninth. It was not until the latter 90's that the South displaced this group of States as the most important source of lumber supply. Since Southern pine is abundant in all the Atlantic Coast States from the Carolinas to Texas, the region as a whole will doubtless maintain its leading position for some years, in spite of the fact that at the present rate the bulk of the timber will be gone in another decade; but in totals of production by individual States the leadership has since 1905 been held by Washington.

The figures of production show that during 1907 Washington fell off very decidedly from its huge cut of 1906, while its sister State, Oregon, is credited with a slight increase in its total. In the early part of the year Washington suffered from a car shortage, and at the end the combined effects of business disturbances and higher rates had brought the industry almost to paralysis. Oregon kept up its cut because of its larger proportion of coastwise and foreign trade. These two States together produced more lumber than any other two States in the Union.

It is a striking fact that though lumber prices have been steadily going up during the last half century, the per capita consumption of lumber has also been going up. In 1850, according to the best figures obtainable, the average consumption to each person in the country was 250 feet, in 1900, 460 feet, and in 1907, 480 feet. This illustrates what has been found true the world over—that with industrial progress the demand for wood becomes greater and greater.

CITRUS FOOT-ROT

By P. H. ROLFS

—Florida Agricultural Experiment Station—

The first symptom of the disease that is noticed is the oozing of gum from wounds occurring near the ground. Later on, the gumming ceases and the bark dries, the portion that has become diseased breaking off. These foot-rot wounds after they begin to heal are so characteristic, that when once seen they are rarely mistaken. The extent to which the wounds spread depends on a variety of circumstances. Sometimes they are very small, being not more than a fraction of an inch in diameter and more or less circular in outline; while at other times they may extend nearly or quite around the tree at the ground. In such cases the wound is of an irregular shape.

Remedy—Since we have known that the disease is infectious and understood the conditions which favor its spread, a remedy can be much more successfully applied. The following brief rules, if followed carefully and conscientiously, will eliminate the disease from a grove, and in many cases save trees that otherwise would be lost:

1. Remove the soil from about the crown and the crown-roots, at least as far back as any disease occurs. The greatest care should be exercised not to wound the roots in removing the soil. By wounding the roots, opportunity is given for the microbes to enter, and it is altogether possible that some virus of the disease may be on the implement used in removing the soil. A very small, even an invisible amount of the virus, is capable of starting the disease in a new place; consequently, any tools or implements used about a foot-rot tree should be thoroughly disinfected before being used on a healthy one.

2. After the soil has been removed from the crown, cut out the diseased parts. For this purpose a large pocketknife with a strong blade is a handy instrument. The bark should be cut away as far as the disease occurs, which can be easily told by a yellowish or dark discoloration of the inner bark. As the disease rarely penetrates into the wood, it will be sufficient to remove the bark.

3. After the diseased part has all been cut out, apply an antiseptic wash. One of the most readily obtainable and also one of the best, is crude carbolic acid—using one part of the acid to one part of water. This may be applied with a paintbrush, or with a swab. Most people find the latter the handier of the two, and it can be readily made by wrapping the end of a stick with some old cotton cloth.

When the disease makes its appearance early in the year, it may be necessary to repeat this operation a second time, or even more frequently. The frequency with which the operation should be performed will depend upon climatic conditions and on the severity of the infection.

4. After the above remedy has been applied, and no new cases of foot-rot have been discovered for a period of two or three months, the following wash may be applied to the trunks of the trees and to such larger roots as are exposed: Three parts of slacked lime, mixed with one part

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the closest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, biliousness and all catarrhal diseases affecting the bowels, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native medicinal plants of great value; also that some of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women, are the same as those contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the woman's functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, relieving painful periods, toning up the nervous system, and restoring the state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

of flowers of sulphur. The ingredients may be easily mixed by passing them through a sieve, or by working them on the floor, very much as fertilizers are mixed. After they are evenly mixed, place the powder in a tub or barrel, and add enough water to bring it to the consistency of paint. The right amount of water can easily be determined by trial. If the wash covers the surface well and flows easily from the brush, it will be about right. The trunks of the trees and all of the exposed roots should be given a thorough coating of this material. In groves where foot-rot is just starting and where the wounds are all very small, this wash alone will frequently be found sufficient. In groves where foot-rot occurs on a considerable percentage of the trees, it will be best to apply the wash to the trunks and larger roots of all the trees—those that are not affected as well as the diseased ones.
